Thread: Halo Reach: Video:: Rocket and Banshee Projectile mod

Sennheiser - December 26, 2015, 1:39 am

Was testing out tracking with banshee bomb and rocket launcher came up with this

The extreme heat seeking rocket works host only the banshee tracking and rocket tracking can work offhost with

-Rocket hog

-Banshee bomb

-Rocket Launcher

the projectile following will be normal, but still very useful

Rocket

It's literally an RGH probably using assembly to modify the values of aim assist, etc. my personal faves are still turning everyone green and throwing mongooses from nades. Flying destroyed scorpion is nice too.

"Flying destroyed scorpion is nice too." what? O.o

Assembly is fun in general.

I found offsets no one knows about like barrier bouncing, sensitivity mod, instant zoom, character mods that did this:

Example:

and way more and shit that are so fucking hilarious. Wish I still had some of em cause they took forever to find/test.

I work with Professional from S7 on his tools and we mod together a lot. And yes a flying destroyed scorpion. Having a dead body fly around the map that you can control is fun to. Gives you a super advantage. Flying is also possible as well. Just a bit weird. There are technically two ways to do that. I've also gotten a scorpion turret attached to my actual player model. Only issue is that it freezes other people in game except for myself. Trying to find a way around that ATM.
