Who am I to answer your questions?

I have been doing Youtube for over 2 years, almost 3 and I've hit over 11,000 subscribers on various Youtube accounts.

If you have any questions related to Youtube, such as uploading, quality vs quantity, description, SEO'ing etc. just ask right away, and I'll do my best to answer your question.

Please post your questions on the thread to keep it alive.

Hi there, I was wondering if there is any useful tools you know of which can help me get started with learning about SEO'ing with regards to youtube. I've read and watched videos which state that Seo for YT is different then websites. Thanks for your time :)
