So i use dark comet, and every 5-15 seconds the same slaves pop up, only i think its a bot because they then disappear, has any one else experienced this and if so, how do you stop it??

Thanks

It's a honey pot you got probably from scanning on VirusTotal

Sounds like you got caught in a honeypot.

Usually happens when you/someone scans your virus on a virus scanning site, that redistributes.

The most known scanning site that redistributes is VirusTotal.

What does it mean? can i get rid? I know better than to scan on VirusTotal

Can't really get rid of it.

They have your stub.

It's connecting to you, on that port.

You can probably close the port and switch ports, but that's just about it, if you want to keep your IP address.

Supposing you're using DarkComet on your home connection.

Be sure to close the port they're connecting on.
