MAID's quite interesting indeed, I've bought some MAID myself...

Not a lot though... Good luck!

well i would not invest but its up to you just keep an eye on graphs for a week see what you see (any pattern etc)

VRUMM - December 30, 2015, 6:23 pm

Maidsafe is competing with the internet so it's a pretty cool idea.

I love Mediasafe concept and I want to invest in it too. It will be the next GEN for the internet. But, I read before that if you wanna get coins from Mediasafe you must have a large space to share and I don't know how they calculate this shit.

anyway GL m8

Those are also good investments. I would have invested in those two if I didn't think maidsafe was a better idea.

I never said you should back out ?? I'm saying you picked at a good time, MaidSafe will be up there with the rest soon enough, just like it has been slowly making it's way up the market cap since it's start ??

I invested in the ICO back in 2014 and would have 6x what I invested if I sold today, but I'm buying up more as I think it is one of the most promising coins out there. I would check out their forum <http://forum.safenetwork.io> and read more on it. MAID isn't your run-of-the-mill pump and dump fad coin. If the protocol proposed in the whitepaper is realized and implemented as outlined, it has the potential to decentralize the Internet and change the very way data is accessed online.
