Thread: How to resolve someone's skype after patch?

How would you resolve someone's skype if you have them added after the patch?

Hit me up with the Skype name, I'll try a few different things. I'd let you know if anything of it works.

This usually works

Agonises - December 31, 2015, 1:13 pm

The thing the user above posted was 'SKYPE DEOB'. And from my understanding it's an OLD skype. Which monitors main.db and when the user accepts you and is active. It grabs their ip address linked to their skype. IT doesn't require you calling them, nor resolving them. Just simply being added, and they're online.

Whhaaat, I'm outdated but what happened necessarily?

Zayzo - December 31, 2015, 1:54 pm

You cannot use an online resolver to attain a skype's ip.

You can use the skype DB lookup provided by skypegrab.net but as Agonises stated - those are old stored IPs.

In that case just buy a blacklist.

IanConnor - December 31, 2015, 2:53 pm

if you never been resolved you are unresolvable. but your still in a skype resolver db if you been resolved

jellymodding - December 31, 2015, 3:01 pm

ya i often use a skype deob :D

Ankles - December 31, 2015, 3:27 pm

I would call them and use wireshark if you have the ability to call them...

Varane - December 31, 2015, 3:31 pm

is it possible for me to get the skype deob from somewhere, and a quick little tutorial on how to use it?
