Hello!

Just found out that CSGOSHUFFLE.COM has gotten a new "Coin Shop". If you want 50 Free points (=0.5$) to spend as you like on the shop, log in to the site, then go to "Referral", then you type the code "L0648LF5".

Here is a link to the shop as well!

<https://csgoshuffle.com/shop>

Im not spamming this for own winnings, but I want people to notices it. Both me and you get 50 free coins if you use my code.

(PS: Im sorry if you feel that this is upsetting, but im just trying to do something nice for everyone, including myself of course).

Bump my friends, happy holidays!

Listen, let me take care of that part. I will give away 150$ when I actually get 1000 hits, thats the way it is. TheBlackDude. You get 25 points when using the code. Simply click at "Shop" after you clicked at "Referral". They are currently refilling their shop, so no items there yet.

For the people who saw this as a joke, you were wrong. The giveaway will soon find place, as I am reaching almost 350 usages. This is a giveaway, please don't refer to it as a referral link.

Sta tuned guys!

Are you that fucking retarded?

Haugsen - January 6, 2016, 6:56 am

But the thing is. When you combine a referral link, with a giveaway, and the giveaway is over 80% of what I make with the referral link, is it still against the rules? When its 80% giveaway, and 20% own profit? I don't feel that way.

LilDurk - January 6, 2016, 6:57 am

This counts as a referral link no matter what.

[$(5)$] - January 6, 2016, 6:58 am

This is a referral. Whether link or image or task or method, you're still referring someone.

The only thing here is that it is against the rules and you shouldn't be cross posting in multiple sections when you know that it isn't allowed here.
