Thread: [My opinions about free rats \[May help you chose\]](#)

So are you stuck at the point where you don't know which rat to chose? And you pocket is out of cash?

Well this thread might help you chose which free rat you should use!

Babylon

Babylon is a great rat, and the stability of it is great!

You can set it up with two different ports and DNS like the stability gets doubled! The execution rate is good, and the rat is native.

I have never had problems with this rat what so ever. The look is great, and the only important feature missing is microphone capture.

Darkcomet

Darkcomet is outdated..

The rat has insane many features, which is the only good thing I can say about the rat.

Some will disagree but the truth hurts..

It is unstable compared to newer rats and a big downside is the darkcomet remover tool.

Anyone can go to darkcomet's internet page and download the remover and take it away from your computer. A crypter can prevent this, but it isn't worth a try since the remover is searching directly for the darkcomet trojan and files, and will remove it.

njRAT

Stabile, got the important functions, design is great.

Down side with this rat, is that it is slowly getting outdated..

But the reason this rat gets so much rating, is because it is so flawless.

Very recommended rat is all I have to say.

Quasar

This rat is flawless just as njRAT..

All the functions on it works like a charm, and the look is great.

It got a lack of features, but the author is active and updating it!

The stability is ok, but I have experienced a loss of victims more than on njrat.

Very recommended rat.

Higher rate will come when the rat gets more features!

jRAT

jRAT is working fine. It is outdated as the author dropped the project I believe, and it misses cameracapture while having insane many other features.

The rat is acting weird some times.

I recommend going for another rat than this one. Simply because stability loss.

KilerRat

KilerRat is a cool rat with unique features.

It is based on the same code as njRAT, but with modifications on it.

The rat is intresting to use, but very old looking.

Not recommended as a general rat but if you want more than one, than go ahead!

Thanks for feedkback bro! Added kilerrat!

UPDATE: All rats are now linked to their official thread.

Pictures will come to morrow, as well as more rats:~)

I added pictures!~)
