Thread: Banned HF..

SevnDK - January 3, 2016, 10:25 am

Hello HF members,

I'm posting this here because nobody seems to be replying to my contact forms.

So yeah i got banned from HF
Let me explain this all.

In 2015 i made a HF account but i wasn't really active and i wanted to exchange btc but couldn't add/pm them due to my LQ posts etc.

So i asked a friend( hackforums\( dot \)net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2635060 to let me sign in his account because he was l33t.

After a while we got into a fight because the user constantly tried to rat me or my friends ( as seen on his REP ) so i basically blocked him.

Now he got banned on hackforums and they banned all the ips on his ip logs.

So they banned my account aswelll.

Now people might be telling me i'm lying but i'm not first of all I live in the netherlands and he lives in the US so our IPS are completely different!

Second of all when we got into the fight he got all his little friends to repfuck me ( that's why i'm -6 on my account)

Can a admin please unban my account as i have been banned for no reason!?

Thanks HF!

My original profile link : hackforums\( dot \)net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2635060

Remember, i'm not multi accounting i just wanted to make this post as no staff/admin is replying to my emails/contact form submits

PS: Sorry for my bad english!

You and your friend shared an account together which is likely the cause of both his and your account being closed.

Your fault

So if you were LQ, why didn't you not be LQ anymore and become more active?

Sorry i meant not LQ but i didn't have enough HQ posts.

It's really hard to be HQ if you're not english i tried so hard, you can even look at some of my posts.

I used his account i didn't share anything.

But is it really my fault? because i wasn't aware of any of the rules ( i had 5 posts.. )

^ What he said, Account sharing is not permitted in any form. You will likely not be welcomed back for this simple matter alone.

Well your English didn't seem to be that bad in that original post you made.

Your friend was stupid enough to share his account, you nor should him be allowed back on Hack Forums, what if you or he shared to another friend went on a massive scamming spree. This situation is unacceptable.

Really? Buying "l33t" doesn't matter, I'm guessing near a million members have purchased l33t, it simply doesn't matter. You shared accounts, with someone who is now closed. You're done. Also, you were banned for a reason. It's also now called a RKO, you didn't get a RF, you got people negging you not all your rep removed based on how you explained it.

Actually it is, the user made up some fake stuff about me

"no reason" and then admitting to account sharing. Nice one.

Alright, so staff/administration RKO'd you removing all positive reputation? Anyways, you shouldn't have been sharing accounts. PERIOD, nor should the user allowing you to go on his account he's in the wrong too.

- Based on everything you said, you were also running MULTIPLE accounts at once, when you're only allowed one, ever *unless help doc states otherwise for certain situations*. Now, since your account was banned and you were sharing, can't see you get it back.

Use the contact form to appeal your account closure.
