I am on purse.io right now trying to find something to use my AGC on, as I have US and UK. However all the rates are over $870 USD.

Should I just keep checking back until I find a reasonable rate? Such as 500-600?

purse.io is the best place to utilize your AGC in best way possible.

Edit: Just saw that you mentioned 'German' AGC. Sell them in marketplace. That's what I do.

That is true. However, BTC amount of that particular order remains in escrow till such time.

Just don't process such orders. Find the ones that suits your preference, even if you have to wait. I prefer to wait for orders I want to accept as per my preference or I accept anything out of desperation.

Using VCW is old school. Go invest time in finding HD videos. Use your SE skills to dodge all those people asking for verification. Find the ones that are too gullible to fall for your SE. Sell a show / pics to them and enjoy free money. Good luck.

I have no plans to invest my time in writing an e-book. As far as using 'Unsaturated' method is concerned, I actually do not use any methods. What makes me earn money is my experience and ability to troubleshoot instantly (in most of the cases).

I wouldn't recommend using amazon.in on purse.io.

What is VCW? It's a flash based programme with an integrated video with certain features to prove yourself 'Real' to prospective customers.

Also, I think a full Purse.io guide might really help. How it works, tips and advice etc. Please make a good use of SEARCH button. You will find plenty of guides/tutorials related to purse.io

Purse staff has confirmed that a wait of 24-48 hours is normal. But if it takes longer than that...do not hesitate to contact support. They will send a message to spender, with a deadline of course. If the spender doesn't responds in said deadline, escrow will be transferred to you. Hope this answers your question.

You can use the same purse account. Having Amazon prime is a must to increase shipping speed and to enjoy free shipping. Accept orders that gives you good returns.

People who ask for such stuff are generally the time wasters and most of them are aware of the basic concept of E-whoring. But if you still want to harvest a crop of such people, use your SE to filter out the time wasters. You would be surprised to see that the hit rate of such people buying a camshow from you would be around 2/1000. Not a figure that I'd like to work on. Gather knowledge to gain confidence. Confidence is the only element that prevents fucking up anything that you wanna do.

1- Do you just try to make sure they look the same as the girl you're advertising on kik websites or wherever you're getting the traffic from? I use a generic pic (for eg: a dildo pic or a sexy girl avatar etc.) as profile picture. I share pic of girl only after I know what kind of show do they want. Once I have the intel, I send them pic of the girl whose relevant video I have on my HDD.

2- Any advice on where you acquire your cam shows from? there are a lot of sites tbh. Due to rules of HF I can't link you to the sites here but just google these keywords 'camshowdownloads' or 'caminspector' or 'cliphunter' and you will get enough of results to fulfil your needs.

3- How much do you sell your shows for? do you base the price on time or what you do in the show? $3 per minute is the standard rate that I maintain. If a client is rich, I increase it as per the situation.

4- How long does an average show last? This depends on the duration a customer has bought.

And, do you accept payment only before the show? like how do you accept more payment, if they want to watch more?

i.e they initially want 10mins, but when it gets to 10, they decide they want more?

i'd imagine if you have a girl thats in the middle of doing shit, you cant ask them for more money in the middle of a show? (Because shes busy fingering herself or something).

Do you have certain shows that are only 5, 10, 15 mins?

I realise i haven't worded the question the greatest, so i'll try and re-word it, if you dont understand haha.

I always take payment before the show obviously. The kind of situation you have mentioned is very rare as it generally doesn't happens. Even if something like this happens....I complete the show first and then I disconnect the call. I then ask them to pay more if they wanna see more. If they pay, I use a different video of the girl to deliver one more show. I have vids ranging from 3 minutes to 20 minutes. In most of the cases I have at least 50 vids of each girl that I use.

Hello few days before I tried Skype ewhoring but I face some problems, so I think you have experience and you can easily help me.

1. Before sending payment mostly people want to see us on cam for confirmation of real girl , I do that via vcw after that they pay and there demands like fingering , dildo etc that I not found in vcw or not continuously. If I use another video then they said this is not you. How to find same girl.

If you have same girl verify vids, vcw or show, I would like to have it.

2. If I use faceless vid then after that show they demand of another like boobs or face include. How can I provide that.

Please help me about this.

And if you have many vids of same girl or faceless send me both.

You can pm me links or send vids on skype.

I will appreciate your help
