Hey Giys, ive been away from the whoring scene for a while and have come back to make a few extra £££, yet when i look around all the VCW i look are the same as 2012, are there actually any new/ recent vcws available??

For bringing this up, I've noticed this as well.

As far as I'm aware, there really aren't any on the market that have been noticed by me..

VCW's are really kind of becoming outdated especially with everyone just wanting Kik/other things.

I disagree with this. Skype shows can bring good money, but finding people willing to pay is slightly harder.

I agree on this, finding customers is a pain in the ass. But when you found some you will make good money.
