Cool userscript, I think I'll be using it if it works on mobile :p

edit: any way for this to be next to the posts?

Well this could maybe lead to post everytime the same reply and thus lower the overall post's quality.

So, this would just keep messages there and when you switch to another PM, it'll still be there right? Am I understanding it correctly?

If so, this seems cool. Not something I'll be needing for now, but I do like it.

Exactly this. If you're running some kind of sales here, you probably often copy & paste the same answers. That's why you would have a notepad.
