KFC Watermelon - January 9, 2016, 9:34 am

Incendiary was a very high quality member and contributed a lot to HackForums and my product. I even purchased him a gift award and he was an administrator on my support website. Incendiary will be known as a member who helped others, contributed to the forum and inspired many.

I can confirm that Incendiary passed away on December 28th, 2015. He is listed on a reliable Australian obituary website with his first and last name matching his PayPal's, comments from his family and the dates match up with his age. He was nearly 16 years old at his death, and he messaged some members and I within 24 hours before his death.

His Profile: <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2584324>

This thread is to remember Incendiary, who was a very high quality member and helped countless members on HackForums. His cause of death is not known. Please do not speculate -- what's done is done. Please take a moment to remember Incendiary and his contributions to the forum. He was a great guy.

Messages he sent me the day of his death:

Rest in peace, friend.

I had no idea it was this bad. I feel terrible. He was a fantastic member, and a great person, it was a pleasure to be able to have called him a friend.

I think this is important to note, people who feel depressed or suicidal, it is fucking CRITICAL to speak to someone. I know these feelings all too well and had I not spoken up I certainly would not still be around today.

Caliban - January 9, 2016, 12:43 pm

Damn why did he do this? 16 is where you are still starting at life, what could be so bad that you plan to suicide? How unfortunate he didnt chose to seek help... May he rest in piece!

Btw its weird yesterday i read a thread about if any HF members died and now this...

Saney - January 9, 2016, 12:44 pm fucking fuck the system yo. This is where anonymous should step in.

If we only could get in contact with the fucking yt acc owner of their group. Rest in peace:(

Varane - January 9, 2016, 12:50 pm

Rest in peace, you will be forever missed.

Krave - January 9, 2016, 1:14 pm

I didn't know the user, but he seemed cool. RIP.

Kappa-chan - January 9, 2016, 1:41 pm

Too bad ;/

I guess he was depresiv :(

Rest in peace man...

Veldt - January 9, 2016, 1:42 pm

Unfortunate that he passed away, even more unfortunate for his family.

I don't understand how this young man could possibly take his life so soon without seeking professional help, I know professional help doesn't work for everyone but it may have just been enough to save his life.

But the fact that he has taken his life in the holiday season is extremely selfish towards his friends and family. Christmas and the New Year are supposed to be cheerful and uplifting and now his family is left without their child/nephew/brother/etc. Speaking from experience my aunt committed suicide on December 18th, 2008. I remember her every damn year and cannot help but feel hurt that she would do this to us, I know I don't fully understand what has gone on in the minds of those who choose to take their life but I know that most think of their family before they do it, if only that was enough to save his life.

Anyway, may he rest in peace. I am glad you met him and are now able to cherish memories of your friend, I hope you are able to cope with your loss.

Best wishes for your New Year!

No way.... my csgo buddy.

Rest in piece my friend, I will actually miss you.

I messaged him yesterday on Skype, and didn't realise this.

As this unfolds, there appears to be elements which I think everyone was unaware of, my girlfriend agrees, regardless of Incendiary's usual cheerful mood he was underline unhappy. They say a picture is worth a thousand words, it would appear to be a portion of this case. ?

I've just requested for Omniscient to close the account.

I think it's only fair that nobody accesses, or attempts to access, his account.

I know how it feels.

I've been depressed for 10 years and I trying to hold on.

I do think about suicide its a horrible feeling.

I remember that too how we were in the LL support group chatting with him.

I dont know what to say its really really sad.

y-y-youtoo - January 9, 2016, 2:00 pm

This is really sad. Rest in peace Incendiary.

It's also very heartwarming to see that a lot of users show respect in both this thread and the reputation of Incendiary.

Ætμ™ - January 9, 2016, 2:09 pm

Rest in peace. I did not personally know him but it's still sad to see anyone go, especially at such a young age with a full life ahead of them. My sincere apologies to anyone who knew him and his family.

YinYang - January 9, 2016, 2:09 pm

Holy shit...

This has brought up the attention of a lot of people (I see you Omni reading this thread) despite his passing being incredibly sad, It's amazing to see how 'positive' (respectful? I can't think of the word) this forum is being...

I hope his family find peace and rest, thank you for doing the right thing by not creating drama, and being respectful

Damnnnn My condolences. I did not know this member very well myself, but he was a HQ member. May he rest in peace.

KFC Watermelon - January 9, 2016, 2:21 pm

I want to thank Omniscient a lot for giving Incendiary an award. That is very kind of him.

I also sent out a notification to all LuminosityLink users letting them know of his passing, and how much I appreciated his help. In addition, my next major LuminosityLink update will be named after him.

Incendiary was an incredible user. He lead my support team, greatly assisted in creating the ticket system, helped a TON of members, created tutorials, and all around was an excellent guy. He was a lot of fun to speak to, and I miss him.

Someone who knew Incendiary personally contacted me with evidence of his passing, which is why I created this thread. That person stated:

Quote:Ben always spoke about LuminosityLink positively and wanted it to succeed immensely. I remember he would be staring at the clock waiting to get home and jump on HackForums so he could speak to you guys.

Incendiary will be missed. Truly a high quality member.

TheUnknownPlague - January 9, 2016, 2:21 pm

ill miss him he was one of the most HQ people o n this forum

Idea Thief - January 9, 2016, 2:22 pm

Some of the comments I've seen on this thread and the other thread are appalling. It always seems as if degenerates like to ramble on about "you didn't know him" and "it was his choice". Obviously he made that choice to end his life, but you probably don't understand that his poor mental state led to him making this poor decision. You really don't know the full story behind all of this.

MissingN?. - January 9, 2016, 2:22 pm

He was a very helpful member whenever I talked with him, this is very sad to hear and I hope he rests in peace.
