Thread: [The Gaming Node | Community Forums | Voucher Giveaways \[HF AWARD \]](#)

CALIFORNIAN - January 10, 2016, 2:45 pm

I have launched a gaming community called [\[TheGamingNode\]](#) or TGN. It's backed with tons of features from valid XenForo license that you won't find on your conventional MyBB gaming forum. I have implemented an attractive medal award system as well as kick-started voucher giveaways. I intend on expanding with more features and incentives for members in return for content and activity. I am a pretty self-sufficient person so therefore I will not be found begging for donations. I encourage you to become a part of the next successful gaming community.

Any feedback for comments or suggestions would be greatly appreciated!

I can already tell your site is on the right path. Using paid software, custom theme(I think) and giveaways. I'm glad there's atleast one good gaming site.

I say keep it up. I'm a Graphic designer and overall an artist and i like you're layout. The only thing that can kill you're site is you giving up on that idea by leaving it inactive.

Site looks pretty unique. Only comment is the text seem a bit harder to see due to it is kinda similar to the background color.

Will join it soon.
