Is there anyway you can view private Facebook photos and such? An addon or something you can use?

If you found a way to view private photos on facebook you can report them and i am sure that they will reward you. xD I dont think that someone here will share with you this method(if exist). Will be better for anyone to report them and to get minimum bounty 500usd xD

I can't even find my own private pictures anymore..

I remember reading somewhere that they aren't actually private and there was some flaw where you could see it, but don't remember the method. Probally read it on HF

There used to be a method, long time ago that crawled websites for image common image extensions to find hidden photos. This was mainly for places like Photobucket though
