Thread: [Native English typing service! Articles, Homework, Essays and more! \[AFFORDABLE\]](#)

Ellie Is Bae - January 11, 2016, 4:58 pm

Additional Information:

Spoiler (Click to View) Note: The reason there are no prices in the thread is because I do such a variety of work it's difficult to give guideline prices. Don't hesitate to ask me about any kind of typing work you have, whether it be homework, essays, re-writing website's into fluent and understandable English, news articles, blogs, the list goes on! I type at a rough speed of 130-140WPM (Words Per Minute) Last time I tested myself.

Nothing is too large buddy. I've been doing 4 hour transcriptions which take me about 6 hours each time, so throw whatever you've got at me :P

Thanks man, 140 WPM last time I checked, I could probably hit 150 if I tried :P

I remember back in school when I sat typing for an hour straight until I finally hit 100 WPM haha.

Sweetie - January 22, 2016, 10:52 pm
Good luck with the service. Also, would be helpful to know the grade levels that you can complete.

Also, is that one vouch copy still available? (This is an exotic request if there is)

This didn't really start off as a homework service, more transformed into that. Also difficult to define a level that I would go up to when I'm in the UK and my customers are often from other European countries that have a different grading system and honestly I think I could complete any grade of English work I was given. Will always turn a task down before-hand if I think I couldn't complete it within the deadline. Thanks for the feedback :)

EDIT: Yes the vouch copy is still available.

Depends on length and deadline. Standard rates are about $15 if it's not urgent and a couple pages.
