Thread: SUBWAY METHOD - FREE METHOD TO OBTAIN A FREE SUB DAILY!

Ugleh - January 12, 2016, 8:41 pm

This method is so easy I am not even going to require you to PM or anything. Damn, just reply if you think your going to try this out or something so the thread stays bumped.

1. Grab a few subway reward cards. They are at the subway, on a stand by the register available to grab. They look like gift cards so you might initially be confused but are not.
2. Register them all with different emails using a temp email service. They also ask for phone and name but that also be random.
3. Come back every day and use them for a free breakfast sub.

When you register a subway card you automatically get 50 points. Those 50 points can go toward a regular 6 inch or a flatbread sub.

Enzio - January 12, 2016, 8:43 pm

Wait....how many points do you get by registration ?

Can't be that much lol.

(Jan 12, 2016 09:54 PM)?Y??????? Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Won't the store owner easily catch on? lolIt depends if the store owner is the one working or if its an employee. If its an associate I doubt they would care much. Go in there daily during rush hour and they will forget you within 10 minutes you walk out the front door.

Are you talking about the subway fast food?

I never been to one yet but here I don't think they left those type of cards laying around near the counter in my area.

The reward cards are free. Maybe that subway was out and the employee didn't know what they where talking about?

MiamiHeat - February 5, 2016, 4:29 pm

Just realized I've been using this on subway cash cards and not rewards cards. None of my stores know what a rewards card is though
