Aliasllias - January 13, 2016, 1:19 am

So lately I got a lot of free time and I thought why not help other people.

I will be offering the free MiddleMan service for deals up to $25, the only thing I won't do are deals with PayPal.

ayy for deals less than $20, that's a pretty safe route to go.

Yes, but people now a days even scam for $20. Think I might make the amount higher.

Why under $20? Are you afraid to fuck up middlemanning a deal if it's anymore?

Because I feel like people need to build there trust up with me, so I won't make a jump in the deep to quickly.

I, personally, find that completely understandable and think that you are taking the safest route possible which is kind of hard to come by on here.

Thanks for offering this service. Vouch.

too bad currency exchanging is done, you won't get many people needing a middleman.

If someone is using a middleman for 20$ I think it's called being overcautious.
