Start dealing with this when you're on the green side.
This thread is about to get flamed if you doesn't get it closed.

I appreciate you trying to help, but for what I know, you're trying to do something you shouldn't do.

-> Add to skype to explain a simplistic process.
-> Calls me a spy

Either you know what you are doing or you do not. If you infact know what you are doing you would be able to explain it, in detail right here, no reason to add to skype unless your going to try infect me or something else that is sketchy AF.

blackmuggle - January 17, 2016, 11:40 am lol why you think everybody is a zombie trying to infect you :) thats paranoid

yes you need to crypt the file and then send it to victim

Im not paranoid, I have simply been around long enough to sense deceptive practices when I see them.

Why would you imply a member whos post activity clearly states where one of my specialties are, and with more than 600+ positive reputation primarily from this section a spy? Don't try to imply anything about me, your the one who's legitimacy is being questioned at this point, I suspect you have less than upstanding intentions by offering this service. It is not unusual for someone to hide under the guise of being helpful to pull under handed shit.

blackmuggle - January 17, 2016, 12:12 pm

Whatever man, Your rep and warning levels speak for themselves, why would someone in need choose someone like you when so many other more reputable trusted members are more than happy to help.

Maybe you should not have been such a crappy troll, people would surely be more than happy to give you a try had you not dicked around so much.

Your rep is your own damn fault, don't go blaming everyone else for your own dumb ass actions, calling "The rest of us money hungry scammers" ?

If you are good at something you dont do it for free.

Again, I asked simple questions and you would rather point the blame and direction to everything OTHER than what was asked, either you dont know or have "other" intentions. Regardless of what it is, you fucked your own rep up, if you want to be given a chance I suggest you fix that shit FIRST.

Quite simple. He is learning to play with rats, has gained enough confidence that he can help others, but is posting simplistic port forwarding questions.

His logic is "I need to fix my rep, so I will offer rat setups"

- Which essentially is rep begging.

Refuses to detail simplistic instructions unless over team viewer, effectively giving him control over anothers machine where Id be willing to bet he will either attempt to upload his binary or convince the user to take a file.

And proceeds to call people scammers and spys like a dingle berry. Overall LQ user, who is clearly not trusted enough or experienced to offer such a service.
