Its nice to be nice - January 16, 2016, 6:26 pm

Scammed by this kid <https://gyazo.com/4b462ae5623b2670d0d219d3f5744b95>

Offered me services. I did have a PM from him on HF but i deleted my messages to free up space for my threads. is there anyway i can get these pm's back up?

Then i could provide indepth proof as to whats happened.

Basically he offered me some services on botnetting or something on them lines. What he layed out for me sounded nice. But i sent as family and friends (Stupid i know) Then he just made up bullshit excuses about going for food. Then being scammed himself.

The total ammount was £75 $100

Will update proof as time goes. Trying to piece it all up now to make it understandable.

His Skype username is bullets.

You need to provide proof of you sending payment to the address he specified.

SWS - January 16, 2016, 6:35 pm

I'm pretty sure it's this guy.

Thats him. Thanks for finding that. Thanks very much.

Kioshima - January 23, 2016, 4:32 pm

You scammed me basically cause that's my email, but whatever.

Flared - January 23, 2016, 4:37 pm

wait maybe later was the one who hacked the mentor? wtf it all makes sense now

Kioshima - January 23, 2016, 4:59 pm

Maybe later? ? Conspiracy theory.

Yeah I agree with the OP.

I contacted this user as he said he had 8 BTC he wanted to get cash for. I gave him my Skype. We were talking for a couple minutes. Then magically, I get logged out of Skype and my friends told me they were getting asked from my Skype for bitcoin...

How do I know it was him? I used a Skype account that I haven't used for a year, meaning he was the only one I talked to on that account for a year. He got into my email and tried stealing my Steam, IG, Twitter and obviously my Skype.

When I get into my Skype again, I can post logs, and proof I was talking to him.
