Typed in "How To Join ISIS" in college as an example to a friend, I didnt even press enter on my keyboard.

Stole someone's work in year 8. Deleted the sent email on my account but not his. Stupidity at it's finest.

Bahahhahah..

Memories!

Me and a stupid ass bitch many years ago was out in the break and throwing snowballs at each other. A stupid bitchy teacher came to us and told us that he was going to send a message to our parents for breaking the most badass rule u ever could break.. You guessed it! Throwing snowballs!

So yeh, my friend started crying like a little pussy and I was laughing cuz I thought it was funny and the teacher didn't care and gave us kind of a "hah" look and turned around and walked towards his office getting his phone not caring about my friend crying.

So I picket up a snowball and and yelled his name loud.

He quickly turned around and I fucking blasted a snowball right in his face and ran home and didn't come to school for weeks;D

lol ??? what was I thinking

DrDoof - January 18, 2016, 1:07 pm

I didn't hand in an assignment on time once

Baldo - January 18, 2016, 1:07 pm

Dumped a bottle of water on a chicks head in the lunchroom, and also got in a fight sophomore year.

Unruly_Grim - January 18, 2016, 1:15 pm

Oh I have a ton due to my unruly behavior.

1. In elementary me or my friends didn't make the track team so we took the track team's coach juice bottle and emptied it all out while he taught the class.

2. Rip all of the fresh posters they posted on the walls.

3. Laughing at my teacher who was really caring of fish and they almost died and he thought i was the one who almost killed them so i laughed to piss him off and got kicked out for the rest of the year.

4. Throw a powerrade bottle at a kids head and everyone looked at me.
Much more just too much to type. ?

sinmar - January 18, 2016, 1:15 pm

they had a computer in the hallway which was basically for display only with a slideshow on it showing school events, I pulled the keyboard out of the cubby it was on and escaped it, then went and loaded up an anal video on xnxx. no web restrictions either bcs retarded private school. moments after, a group of like 8 children around the ages of 5-7 walked in with their parents and stared at in horror @ the screen while the parents tried to cover their eyes. hallway got closed down and they removed the computer lol

Kinguin - January 18, 2016, 1:16 pm

Probably dumping loads of firework into the toilet at school, then pretending it was an autism in the class who did it. Me and my friends were all complaining that the autism walked inside the toilet, and filled it up with firework then ran out.

The teacher were shocked.

I once brought crackers to schools and I told my friend that it has weed (I was kidding) and then in 3rd period they called me to the office and I saw my dumb friend worrying because he feels like throwing up. He believed that the cracker had weed and I had to show them what type of cracker I have him. I ended up not getting in trouble but it was the dumbest thing.

Jesus666 - January 18, 2016, 1:22 pm

Ratt - January 18, 2016, 1:24 pm

We basically had this assignment where our teacher would call us to her desk and we'd show her our homework and she would check it off, it went in alphabetical order.

I figured out who went a few kids before me then told him to let me turn in his work so I could get credit too and he agreed.

She caught me and I tried lying through it and didn't work.
Got a referral and a F on the assignment.

Varane - January 18, 2016, 1:34 pm

I accidentally called my teacher by my aunt's name since they seemed alike. It was extremely weird, but i think she thought i was talking to someone else.

Yuikoro - January 18, 2016, 1:37 pm

I didn't pay attention in any of my classes during my freshman year (had .8 as my lowest gpa and 1.2 or something as my highest for that year, probably 1.1 cumulative). The grades that I did get were because I copied off my friends, and P.E is really hard to fail.

Now a lot of that shit is biting me in the ass in university because a lot of the alg1 and chemistry shit that I should still remember has gone like the wind. So I'm finding that I'm constantly reviewing how to do simple stuff, such as just recently, fractions in exponents, basic multiplying/dividing in exponents and how they effect the outcome, basic algebra (simplifying fractions with variables), etc.

Ha Haaa - January 18, 2016, 1:39 pm

Some kid just got back to school after he had a broken leg. 2 weeks later I trip him for being a little cunt to everyone. Turns out I gave his wrist a compound fracture.

risenOG - January 18, 2016, 3:22 pm

I called My teacher a bitch and she was right behind me then I said to her, I meant rich.

I also said "suck my dry cock" to someone and the teacher was right behind me and I pretended that I said rock, instead of cock.

I felt bad for laughing when i found out what happened though I never apologised
