Thread: Can he still pay with PayPal if he doesn't have it

emmhor - January 22, 2016, 7:34 am

Hey x

I like being paid with PayPal. But I get messages like "I don't have PayPal." Is there a way he can pay through PayPal without the need of him setting up a PayPal account?

Thanks in advance !

Quite a silly question... Can you drive a car, if you don't have a car?

Back to your question, the answer is no, he can't @OP You can create a Paypal.me Link and give it to him for fast registration and after he can fast pay to you and you should accept other payments for example amazon

Yeah, you can create a donation link and have them pay with their debit/credit card.

No he wouldn't , you just pay through credit card and that's it. It is not attached to any paypal. All OP has to do is make a donation link.

This, or you can accept Amazon giftcards and sell them for PayPal.
