Thread: [\[Official Group\] Eternal for Rent | Leadership Renting Available | Own your own Group](#)

Nex+ - January 22, 2016, 10:45 am

Group For Rent Terms:

Bin to rent: $400 or Best Offer (per month)

I accept: Bitcoins.

Feel free to make me an offer here as well.

Read the rules/guidelines on to rent my group:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

The group will be rented out monthly this way you don't have to be ub3r, L33t or approved by omniscient to run an official group on hackforums. I will always be 'owner' on paper.

You will have full control over the group and do anything you want to do. I also have two private subforums within the subforum that you can use, and moderate yourself.

- Make a group based on your ideas.
- Be a leader with full rights.
- Invite members.
- Invite leaders in your group to expand your ideas.
- Create your own official recruitment threads.
- Create your own private subforum.
- Sell buyins/rent leaderships
- Create your own userbar and change the group name. (at own cost)
- Have moderators inside your sub forum. (at own cost)
- And so much more!

Here are some Question and Answers:

Can i change the group name and design?

Yes you can change the group name and userbar design to whatever you wish, but it will be at own cost!

Will i officially own the group under my name as owner?

No i will always stay group owner, you will be a leader and have the same rights as an owner. You can do whatever you wish with the group as long as it is not damaging HF in anyway.

What are the rent-time increments?

You will be able to rent my group for a duration we both agree on, when that time passes you can extend it or leave it. The minimum time is 1 month.

Can i have a refund if i am not happy?

No, there will be no refunds once you have made your first payment.

Also a simple rule, If you abuse the privilege of running an official group with bad intentions, your renting contract will be terminated without a refund. You have been warned.

Some benefits of renting a leadership spot ($125 per month via BTC) You're leader within our official group, Prism.

You're allowed to invite 3 friends or sell buy-ins. (read the guidelines)

You have the option to wear this awesome official userbar of Eternal.

You're allowed to have fun within the subforums. (as long as you abide by the subforum rules within our group)

It's affordable and well within anyones budget that wants to expand their horizon.

You can always extend your stay or quit whenever you like, or even ask your friends that you invited if they want to chip-in to continue the journey.

You can easily make back your $125 a month by selling 3 membership buyins.

As you can imagine there are plenty of benefits to come up with

Here are the rules for renting a leadership spot within the official group Eternal, Every leader within the group will have to abide by these rules and if broken your contract with me is effective immediate over, with no refund.

The people you invited must follow hackforums guideline rules and cannot break them, Read the Help Docs.

You're not allowed to add scammers in the group.

If one of your invites has scammed somebody you are either to let him solve it within 48 hours or kick him from the group.

If you stop renting you will no longer be a leader of the group.

You're allowed to invite 3 members, You can either invite them for free, or ask buy-ins. (read the guidelines)

You're not allowed to leak anything you see within our subforums within our group.

You don't have rights to make changes in the group, and can't kick other members that you did not invite.

You're not allowed to sell products under the group name.

I am allowed to deny your rental extension if i am not pleased with your stay.

You're not allowed to ask for a refund once you rent a leadership spot.

You're not allowed to re-rent your leadership spot, I'm the only person who can rent out leadership spots.

If you abuse the subforum group in anyway possible to do harm, your contract will be terminated without a refund.

Here are some guidelines for all members on hackforums to read, Your invite is only guaranteed as long as the leader that invited you continues renting the spot, this includes anyone who bought in aswell.

Buy-ins are possible but at own risk, Please make sure to check how long the member rented out the leadership spot to validate your stay within the group.

Understand that the leader might have plans to extend the rental agreement so please PM the member who rented leadership to ask what his plans are regarding that, at own risk.

Follow group rules and hackforum rules, if you do something the leader does not approve of he has the right to kick you from the group.

Lol...

Groups = complete waste of time, big cash makers, though.

There're now, at this current moment in time, two groups that have the exact same format of a description: morse code.

Three have extremely similar userbars. Two more have similar userbars. Two more in addition to those have similar userbars.

I guess I'm not getting anywhere because no one wants to see the truth about themselves revealed rather than just keep it concealed as it nearly always was and still is to this day.

Japanese was right. Nex's reputation puts the groups reputation down. So without an amazing userbar, nobody will buyin. And if they do, it'll only be a few. You'll be lucky to make your money back.

Applied to this very prestigious group. Hopefully I get in!

Epicur - January 24, 2016, 2:27 pm

And once again, the story repeats. Nex has earned 500$ or more, he has screwed some folks up, and now he tries to do it again.

What will it be next time? Renting the group again or selling buy-ins?

Just stop wasting your money on things like this, it is because of people like Nex groups suck harder every time.

watson was gonna pay the day it was due

well, you know, we all have different timezones and nex waited for the very first timezone to see the new day(which I believe is new zealand)

so as you can see, nex just conned them out to hopefully re-rent the group for another 100$ tag(it was 500 but he realized he'd only be getting that from watson, so he bumped it up to 600!)

Seems like every time you've gotten involved in a group it's gone down the shitter.

$600 A Month To Rent?

- Maximum Of 3 People Invite (Either By Own Mind-Set Or Charging Them) = $50 per one (makes $150).

-$450

I don't see how at all that is worth it?

$6000 / 10 months = $600.

- You could buy axiom or the anime group for that If you're able to actually haggle prices.

Seems like to me from my perspective you've got only one thing on your mind.. Greed.
