Thread: Trading bayonet night mw for karambit night ft 0.155 float\(plz help me\)

OG_Breezy - January 23, 2016, 10:33 pm

THE TRADE:

<https://imgur.com/3WErtTq>

If someone's a god at calculations plz help me out to determine if I'd be losing, or if he would.

My bayonet night minimal wear(float=0.09) for his karambit night(field-tested) float is extremely close to minimal wear.

Only problem is that he wants some big adds.

My awp graphite mw(nick) 4 sticks :(about $ my statrack m4a4 dragon fn (I really dont give 2 fuqs about it b/c I bought it on accident) $48

his knife & case-hardened five seven(he just threw in idk why) some god-like apparition plz calculate this for me because my mind is blown atm. I'll love you forever. Tell me the truth within this trade <3

logs of what he's telling me

Dortiz: MW version of my knife is worth 300-310

Dortiz: FT is worth around 200

Dortiz: 210

Dortiz: You're essentially paying for a MW night for 50-60 dollars off

Dortiz: close to the same look

Dortiz: when people trade for profit they expect overpay if they are getting more than 1 item

Dortiz: People often expect like 10% more money for each item added.

Dortiz: I'm losing money on your trade

Dortiz: I'm downgrading from one expensive item to multiple items that add up to it

Dortiz: The prices change more for multiple items opposed to one item changing dont trade based on calculations. that karambit looks like ass so I personally would not do the trade.

Would it add up to a lot in terms of trading up though or not? - edit: added a log of what he's telling me never did it, but why was it bad?

Your Bayonet looks better than his Karambit to me.

Only thing is animation effects. Of course Karambit's animation is sick along with AWP combo. ;)

But I don't think this trade is worth for you though.
