Thread: Problem with dropdown

S Malkiq Sam - January 24, 2016, 6:25 am

Hello,

I have a problem in my forum. The dropdown menus of "???" and "????????? ??????" aren't working. They are situated in the top of the forum and I use the theme of igrade.

Quick check:

Check if your Moderator Tools are working. Are you able to successfully select a post and delete it (don't actually delete it)?

Edit: Why are your links pointing to "javascript:;"? Did this problem only recently occur?

Has there been any changes made to the following:Header template

Javascript files

Headerinclude template

Would help me narrow down where you went wrong.

Here is the code in header

Code    <ul> <li

Make a backup of your existing header template and try reverting it to its original copy. If that works, post the original copy and the backup and I will resolve your problem.

The code I wrote in the post above is the original one.

I made the restore to original but everything fcked up!
