

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Anyone else watches dubbed anime?

SSlueSkies - January 24, 2016, 6:39 am

Im not some hardcore anime fan, I watched Naruto

Death Note

Attack on Titan

Dragon Ball

A bit of Fairy Tail

A bit of Bleach

a bit of one piece

And i watched all of them dubbed... I cba to read the subtitles and the Japanese squeaky voices annoy me xD

I like to watch it when I'm about to go to sleep on my tablet in bed. Sometimes i fall asleep in the middle of an episode.

SIM-2223238 - January 24, 2016, 6:40 am

I dont watch dubbed anime, only subbed.

Seife?r - January 24, 2016, 6:41 am

I watch dub as well :) I normally watch anime while working so I can't really pay attention to read subtitles

Walt Disney™ - January 24, 2016, 6:42 am

Naruto and DB are probably the most common dubbed. Also the only ones I've watched dubbed.

Herbert - January 24, 2016, 6:43 am dont like dubbed, makes it sound so fake, especially the moans.

subs all day, or hire an Asian.

Update: Okay maybe DBZ and Pokemon but they were originally publicized in English.

Varane - January 24, 2016, 6:44 am

The only dubbed anime i watched was Naruto and Dragon Ball Z and half of Code Geass dubbed. I personally think subbed is was better.

ankitkhosya - January 24, 2016, 7:20 am well its also about "Getting used to" .

i watch subs though but completed naruto as dubbed.

GreyHatZone - January 24, 2016, 7:25 am

I like the one peice dub a lot (Zoro and Sanji's voices were dubbed very well imho), I liked the Naruto dub as well but the "believe it" line pissed me off so much.

Kiyoshi - January 24, 2016, 8:03 am

No, I can't really watch dubbed. It just makes the series so weird and somewhat bad imo.
Sub all day.

elemein - January 24, 2016, 8:31 am

You literally can't watch Panty and Stocking with Garterbelt subbed and expect anywhere near the quality of dubbed. Probably the only anime where I say the dubbed is 999x better.

VirtusGraphic - January 24, 2016, 9:08 am

Watching a dubbed episodes of the Dragon Ball franchise is comprehensible, I mean have you heard the character's voices subbed? Jesus. My ears bleed after.

Anywho, you watched dubbed Naruto? Ew. Subbed >

Esdese - January 24, 2016, 9:10 am

I mainly watch subbed, but there's some anime that I actually prefer dubbed. For example, Highschool DxD, HOTD, and Infinite Stratos.

Frankey - January 24, 2016, 9:11 am

Sometimes I watch Sub and Sometimes DUB. When I'm on small screen DUB. Big screen SUB.

Zexo - January 24, 2016, 9:11 am

I really hate dubbed anime not sure why it just Dosent feel right.

Duyere - January 24, 2016, 9:43 am

Most of the time I prefer dubbed over subbed. With that said, I also know the downsides to watching dubbed anime. More so than I would like to admit. The biggest downside being that sometimes the specials, extra episodes, extra seasons, and movies all don't receive dubs. The other biggest downside being that lots of the time the English voice-overs don't resemble/capture the feeling you get from characters you might have enjoyed in the subbed version. Example: Low pitch male character's voice in the subbed version sounds more medium pitched in the dubbed version, which could make a huge difference when capturing character traits. Very rarely do dubbed versions fully capture what the subbed version entails. And very rarely will a dubbed version sound better. Only few anime like Dragon Ball Z and other 90's/early 2000's classics made that evident.

My reason for choosing dubbed over subbed is simply because English is my native language though. I would much prefer having ANYTHING be done in my native language, even if nowadays it sounds like complete and utter garbage because of the same recycled voice actors.

Ang?I - January 24, 2016, 10:08 am

People that say subbed is better have never seen a well done dub.

Rick Sanchez - January 24, 2016, 10:09 am

I usually give it a try dubbed, but it almost always sucks dick. How could you stand Naruto dubbed? Jeez (Jan 24, 2016 11:08 AM)Ang?I Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) People that say subbed is better have never seen a well done dub.

Fullmetal Alchemist dubbed is good I think.

Kiyoshi - January 24, 2016, 11:48 am

(Jan 24, 2016 11:08 AM)Ang?! Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) People that say subbed is better have never seen a well done dub.

?

Sapphire Empress - January 24, 2016, 12:48 pm

Ghost Stories, dubbed, my favourite dubbed anime. The sub is not very good and ratings were bad so when handed over to funimation they were told to just have fun with it and do whatever they could to make it better. So they turned it into a full abridged anime basically. The sub is shit but the dub is funny as hell.

youtube.com/watch?v=tigp8bqDt1s

youtube.com/watch?v=g86R7RVIOw4

Someone please make them links videos

" I know now that it could never work between us, not because you're a rabbit, because you are black!"

Alexiv - January 24, 2016, 3:34 pm

No, I can't watch dubbed animes, it's awful, I have to hear the original voices.

skelly76 - January 24, 2016, 4:21 pm

Naruto, DBZ, and Pokemon are the only decent dubs in my opinion. Still I like the subs way better.

Octavia - January 24, 2016, 4:23 pm

I started out watching dubbed only, then started watching subbed and like it a lot better. Don't get me wrong, I still enjoy dubbed, just not as much as subbed.

Kouta - January 30, 2016, 9:53 pm did only watch one anime dubbed, forgot it was dubbed while watching it. prefer sub tho :P