Bad Blood - July 1, 2010, 1:35 pm

I have a MD5 hash and I also know the salt. How do I crack it?

alberTi - July 1, 2010, 3:02 pm

POST HASH MAN, IM TRAY TO CRACK OK.

^ Hey if you wanna attempt to break on, here you go:

Hash : Salt

82a73c0bb06acf9e5480c037efd60ffa : wyuSNSri

Also I'll even give you the encryption: $md5($md5($salt.$password)) -- It's a MyBB hash.

MD5 hashes are almost impossible to break- especially if they are alpha-numeric/symbol/random at least 8 digits long, and assuming they are not in a rainbow table.

There not impossible to crack - download passwordpro - that cracks salted md5 with an array of algorithms - it also has similar software that supports cuda. Happy hacking

Here is a alpha-numeric/symbol, random, 8 digit+ password of mine-

I seriously doubt you can ever break it- But if you do itll give to you the login password to a unrestricted file sharing account (similiar to #) I created just now.

You break the md5, the account is yours...

Here is the url:

www.havocarcade.net

Username= hcker

password= [md5 hash]

MD5 Hash:

ps- regarding the above posted "unrestricted" file sharing account

IF you manage to break the MD5 hash, DO NOT post it. merely make it more secure than I did in creating it, and keep it and the account for your own personal use.

If you want, simply post "I broke it!" I will of course harden the script after i verify the account is in use and active, but I will honor the account, and keep it intact.

Having a unrestricted premium file sharing account is Gold... I dont think anyone here has a snowball's chance in hell of sucessfully cracking it, but in the offchance someone does suceed in breaking it, and thus gains the account, If you try to bypass the security measures I have in place, and attack Havoc XFS with it, I will deactivate the file sharing account in a second, and restore the script to a time before I created the account- any uploads will be wiped out. By default Havoc XFS has closed user registration. Only accounts I create have "unrestricted/premium" access.

Would you please stop cross-double posting. You post in every md5 or hashtread to crack your hash. Or you create your own post, or you ask someone who provides you the service like AlberTi, where you already posted. But never post in multiple threads.
