Thread: Where do you look when speaking directly to someone?

theoldbrit - January 28, 2016, 6:50 pm

Hey guys, just wondering where y'all look when speaking to people

I know some people who look down or away and not face to face while speaking

But for me, I usually either look at their left eye or in between their eyes

minimalist - January 28, 2016, 6:52 pm

Straight at their eyes, sometimes towards the side if I'm trying to hide something.

Trisomy 21 - January 28, 2016, 6:52 pm

A conversation is dynamic, if you're staring at the same place the entire time you probably have an autism or two.

R2-D2 - January 28, 2016, 6:54 pm

Most of my conversations I look people straight in the eyes.

Varane - January 28, 2016, 6:55 pm

I stare at their tits, it lets them know i am focused.

skelly76 - January 28, 2016, 6:56 pm

Normally you're supposed to switch from one eye to the other.

I either do that or just look at their face in general and break eye contact every 30 seconds or so for a second just cause.

Bruh sometimes when i get a pimple I don't why but during a convo the person I'm talking to just will glance at it and I'm like " Yeah like I can't see where your fucking eyes are looking because I'm staring right at your face right nigga?" and yeah I start laughing out loud at that point like seriously.

D_MuLa - January 28, 2016, 6:56 pm

I look around and down a little bit its too awkward staring in someone's eyes

Ayato - January 28, 2016, 7:35 pm

I'm never focussed to one place my eyes go everywhere.

Cartoon Network - January 28, 2016, 7:47 pm

in the area of their eyes and upper nose, but break eye contact every 10 sec or so for a moment or two so you aren't staring into their inner soul.

Ayahuasca - January 28, 2016, 7:56 pm

If it's an authority figure (School, jobs, etc) I look them straight in the eyes.

If it's someone like my mom and she's screaming at me, I look at her forehead.

ouï?? - January 28, 2016, 8:12 pm

Usually their eyes or their mouth and occassionally look to the side or something because staring at them for too long is awkward as shit.

DestinationSer - January 29, 2016, 3:20 pm

As stated above, if its like a meeting or anything like that I'll look them straight in the eyes and if its someone of not much importance that I don't know I just try to avoid eye contact most of the time

Genicus - January 29, 2016, 3:21 pm

It depends, sometimes I'm using my hands a lot or baxk when I was in school my presentations would be hype and I'd focus a few seconds on each person. Sometimes the teacher.

I'm pretty good at talking to people. Best way to learn to talk to people is look in the mirror and practice.

Dexys - January 29, 2016, 3:30 pm

Well some girls on my school, not sure how to describe this, draw their eyebrows so they are darker and have a "better" shape. But some girls missed a tutorial or two because their eyebrows look like Nike logos or hammers on their forehead. So I basically stare at that sh*t on their head and try to not burst out in laughs.

Literally this is how they look:

Etho - January 29, 2016, 3:35 pm

When talking to a girl I'll usually make eye contact then look at their hair/nails and maybe give them a compliment.

If we are holding hands I'll look at her hand for a couple seconds then resume eye contact.

John Deo - January 29, 2016, 5:55 pm

I Start Straight at their eyes.

Ellie Is Bae - January 29, 2016, 5:56 pm

Funny story behind this, most of the time I stare at the floor, i'm quite a shy person..

But in school I used to always stare at my teachers dead in the eyes whilst I was talking to them, so that when our conversation spiralled into an argument and I was just one more 'fuck off' away from exclusion, I would at least come across as a little more threatening.

Who Soup - January 29, 2016, 6:01 pm

I love how precise the questions in the lounge are.

If you were standing on $1,395,245,252,524^{1928}$ grains of sand and your left pinky toe had previously stepped in acetylsalicylic acid distilled with 10ml of water and 50g of methylpropyl phenyl propanoic acid, in what vector would the sand stick on your dermatoglyphics and what is the percentage covered through out your whole body?

PS.

I look them in the eyes.

Shorta - January 29, 2016, 6:02 pm

I look them in between the eyes, and if it's a cute guy I like I tend to smile too much when I look at them, and I look at he's smile and eyes.

ZSynistical - January 29, 2016, 6:05 pm

I look men straight in their eyes and i look at women straight in their eyes unless i get distracted.

sevv - January 29, 2016, 6:05 pm

Psychedelia - January 30, 2016, 2:29 pm

Ever since doing psychs a bunch I look directly in their eyes and have to remind my self to glance around every once and a while so it's not awkward. I've been going back to normal though since not doing psychs too often.

Before, I would look between their eyes and look away and all around and I sucked at making eye contact.

Platinum - January 30, 2016, 2:30 pm

I usually look around and make eye contact every few seconds or so. I feel quite awkward staring into someone's eyes to be honest.

AnonCensored - January 30, 2016, 2:31 pm

In the eye most the time if i take my pills else if i dont have my pills i normally look at the background behind of the person lol

MD5 - January 30, 2016, 2:32 pm

CyberneticTitan - January 30, 2016, 2:34 pm

I find myself looking at their teeth most of the time. When I realize this during the conversation, I try to look them in the eye more.

However, to troll my buds, I look at their forehead without blinking when talking. Makes it uncomfortable af haha.

SureDawgg - January 30, 2016, 2:37 pm

their penis, theyll become uncomfortable and thats when i cold cock them in the face

Ha Haaa - January 30, 2016, 2:40 pm

I always walk behind them and look at the back of their head.

UTRONEX - January 30, 2016, 2:43 pm

I try to look straight in their eyes but if I can see they are a little nervous I will look away from time to time to not make them feel anxious.

GamingGirl - January 30, 2016, 3:29 pm

I'm screwed if they have like nostril hair or something.. I can't help but stare at it.

zoiners - January 30, 2016, 3:39 pm

Just because you look at them in their eyes doesn't mean you have good manners

silentkill223 - January 30, 2016, 3:44 pm

ha4x0r - January 30, 2016, 3:58 pm

rapidfire08 - January 30, 2016, 4:17 pm

I look in the right eye and plunge into their soul.

theoldbrit - January 30, 2016, 10:05 pm

I tend to look at the persons eyes but still look around aswell as it feels weird staring at them the whole time.

lucky. - January 30, 2016, 10:09 pm

Their eyes I guess, and then I'll look around them from time to time (because its fucking weird to stare into their soul during a conversation).

I don't really think on it, I just try to appear to be actively listening, even if I really am, and be able to spit out something interesting enough to push the convo along.

Vitani's Mate - January 30, 2016, 10:16 pm

I look at their faces and yell.

LOOK INTO MY EYES WHEN I STARE AT YOU!!!!

deiski - January 30, 2016, 10:17 pm

At their titties, where else?

Dragnite - January 30, 2016, 10:58 pm

The eyes, nose or the face directly. But typically I try not to look at a specific area as I feel like I'm staring and then I feel awkward.

hammad20120 - January 31, 2016, 12:11 am

I would probably look in the eyes if they are male...

Kinda shy talking to girls xD

Kuso - January 31, 2016, 12:15 am

If it's a big breasted girl. I can't help but stare at her breast.

Reminds me of chicken breast.

Tesssa - February 7, 2016, 12:08 am

There is only one answer, the boobbs.

420 - February 7, 2016, 12:10 am

Cammy - February 7, 2016, 4:10 am

Either eyes whatever's going on behind them.

Ghost Rider™ - February 7, 2016, 4:17 am

It depends to whom I am talking and about what.

Mount - February 7, 2016, 4:46 am

Pay no attention to the person you are conversing with.

Grey Goose - February 7, 2016, 6:22 am

Straight in their eyes. That way i look like a care.

Up In The Smoke - February 7, 2016, 7:05 am

I look them straight in the eyes, I move from eye to eye now and again.

Sir Paul McCartney - February 7, 2016, 7:07 am

I tend to look at their eyes, but I learnt a trick for those of you have problems at looking into peoples eyes (for various reasons) just look at their nose, they wont be able to tell and they will think you're looking them in the eyes which shows respect etc, It's better than being an awkward fuck and staring at something else

EvolutionIX - February 7, 2016, 7:07 am

I look straight in their eye then look away then repeat

Can - February 7, 2016, 7:08 am

I look directly at their face when speaking to them.

SIM-2122005 - February 7, 2016, 7:10 am

I look them in the eyes for like 5-10 seconds and then i always have to look away for a second or it just feels weird.
