Pms before that were me asking questions, if he tries to deny i'll just paste em

There were pms before that, but i was on my phone, so just pm/screenshare me for those lol

I was making him "feel good" since i wanted a refund, but since he may not do that, i'll leave this here he also edited his thread, as you can see here:

Literally minutes in the convo, like 2 minutes ago he did

Thread in question:

User; <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=2974209>

Amount scammed: $70

I want my $70 btc back, thanks

Think before you buy an ebook on HackForums as a guide to making money?

If it's such a good method like you claim in your private messages then maybe you should actually use it.

minimalist - January 29, 2016, 6:59 pm

Attempts by an uneducated new user to this forum to assimilate oneself into the world of making money never ends well. They always make shitty ebooks because they're told that it's the way that money is made on here.

It makes zero sense.

Obviously the Ebook doesn't work but did you saw the PM's exchanged between them? OP was basically kissing his ass and saying the method was worth more than $75.

Confusing - January 29, 2016, 7:01 pm

Honestly I bought an ebook from him too, it does have potential but the method was only a paragraph long.. technically he didn't scam me, and I should have known better than to buy any ebook, they are basically all scams. What got me was all the vouches though (Yes how stupid of me.) I still don't know what to do but honestly the method is not worth $50.. and it was not private either like he claimed

You simply just got a method free if I gave you the money back? I'm sorry but you didn't even attempt to use the method. I will refund you in 7 days after you show me proof you even attempted to use the method and made no profit.

Phreakdaline - January 29, 2016, 8:30 pm

So... this fucking blew up. Here's my side of things.

Wasn't gonna say shit till people starting bringing my name up. Anyhow...

I was drunk last night and browsing market threads (very very bad idea lol) and decided to check out his "method", like I explained in his sales thread mostly to see if it was legit or not cause I was pretty sure all the "vouches" were just his friends fake vouching so he could make an easy buck. I'm fully aware of the marketplace bullshit here, and I expected that it would be some stupid shit. People can vouch for the fact that when I get drunk I start giving away money here lol.

I didn't however expect it to be so completely commonplace and well known, which is why it's BARELY a step above scamming. I'm not going to cry about a measly $100, but it is obnoxious to see the way he's been about this. I voiced my concerns to him privately about the "method" and my reasoning for why it was shit, also telling him that I've done this many many times before so I'm very familiar with the concept.

After many PMs back and forth I told him that I would like a refund, fully expecting he wouldn't provide one. Figured I'd try anyways. ?

He ended up just ignoring it, until this morning when he had the balls to ask me to vouch on his thread. I wasn't going to, because I hate leaving negative feedback and/or causing any drama, but I started to see the bullshit he was posting on his thread about it trying to convince people to buy, so I gave my true and honest feedback. It's been mere hours, and the thread is now closed after the first honest response. That should tell you something.

In addition, are these FACTS.

#1. The "method" is 100% common sense shit that isn't at all unique,

but he markets it as his "private method". [Yes yes, HF marketers lie, I get it]

#2.

There was in fact NO Terms of Service ANYWHERE on his thread when he posted it, when I bought it, or for a while after I bought it. Nor was there any condition regarding when you could get a refund, or that you couldn't ask for a refund if you already knew the method and didn't like it. I can only guess that him adding those things was a response to my complaints.

#3. The price was $100 originally until he lowered it, and also increased the amount of copies he said he'd sell (from 2 copies to 4) after speaking with me.

If you'd like to see the original thread, I apparently had the presence of mind to screenshot it lol (sans vouches).

>>> <https://imgur.com/a/3eHsp> <<<

TLDR;(hee hee) It's a bullshit method barely above scamming because of how commonplace it is, but I'm not gonna cry over $100 and make a scam report. Also don't browse the HF markets drunk. ????

Got nothing against Magic on a personal level, he's just your average HF marketplace cheapskate trying to get a few bucks off people. He won.

Oh well, life goes on.

(Jan 29, 2016 09:30 PM)Phreakdaline Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) So... this fucking blew up. Here's my side of things.

Wasn't gonna say shit till people starting bringing my name up. Anyhow...

I was drunk last night and browsing market threads (very very bad idea lol) and decided to check out his "method", like I explained in his sales thread mostly to see if it was legit or not cause I was pretty sure all the "vouches" were just his friends fake vouching so he could make an easy buck. I'm fully aware of the marketplace bullshit here, and I expected that it would be some stupid shit. People can vouch for the fact that when I get drunk I start giving away money here lol.

I didn't however expect it to be so completely commonplace and well known, which is why it's BARELY a step above scamming. I'm not going to cry about a measly $100, but it is obnoxious to see the way he's been about this. I voiced my concerns to him privately about the "method" and my reasoning for why it was shit, also telling him that I've done this many many times before so I'm very familiar with the concept.

After many PMs back and forth I told him that I would like a refund, fully expecting he wouldn't provide one. Figured I'd try anyways. ?

He ended up just ignoring it, until this morning when he had the balls to ask me to vouch on his thread. I wasn't going to, because I hate leaving negative feedback and/or causing any drama, but I started to see the bullshit he was posting on his thread about it trying to convince people to buy, so I gave my true and honest feedback. It's been mere hours, and the thread is now closed after the first honest response. That should tell you something.

In addition, are these FACTS.

#1. The "method" is 100% common sense shit that isn't at all unique, but he markets it as his "private method". [Yes yes, HF marketers lie, I get it]

#2.

There was in fact NO Terms of Service ANYWHERE on his thread when he posted it, when I bought it, or for a while after I bought it. Nor was there any condition regarding when you could get a refund, or that you couldn't ask for a refund if you already knew the method and didn't like it. I can only guess that him adding those things was a response to my complaints.

#3. The price was $100 originally until he lowered it, and also increased the amount of copies he said he'd sell (from 2 copies to 4) after speaking with me.

If you'd like to see the original thread, I apparently had the presence of mind to screenshot it lol (sans vouches).

>>> <https://imgur.com/a/3eHsp> <<<

TLDR;(hee hee) It's a bullshit method barely above scamming because of how commonplace it is, but I'm not gonna cry over $100 and make a scam report. Also don't browse the HF markets drunk. ????

Got nothing against Magic on a personal level, he's just your average HF marketplace cheapskate trying to get a few bucks off people. He won.

Oh well, life goes on.

Magicflakes, let me find some proof, green crack was too easy to expose

In a week i will receive a refund, whatever, i can't repopen threads so lets assume i will get a refund.

Exactly, so close this thread, and you'll only get a refund if you show me proof you actually tried this method and didn't profit.

I'm not spamming, just reposting to people who didn't see.
Well you're asskissing didn't work, so.

Tyranus. - January 29, 2016, 10:01 pm

It's up to you if you want to buy an ebook or not. You have to remember that certain methods aren't for EVERYONE, but that doesn't necessarily mean that they don't work.

If you read my replies, you'd see.

I told him I'd refund after 7 days if he showed me proof he attempted this method and made no profit.

>been less than 12 hours lol.
