Thread: FATPEOPLE.LOL image board | new changes & RSS

Profatssor - February 2, 2016, 3:46 am

So the site has just been slowly having work done on it now and is more active & presentable.

Here's the homepage. A few new things:

- Disclaimer just to accept that you understand content may be offensive (since there is no sign up agreement)
- There's a file board (for hosting various archives and documents)
- vichan had a minor update so there is now an RSS feed for posts.
- much better styling on mobile, no need to zoom (removes a lot of unnecessary text that had ugly line-breaking)

Here is how to subscribe to the feed and get a little browser notification:

1. Download an rss viewer (browser addon)

<https://chrome.google.com/webstore/detail/rss-feed-reader/pnjaodmkngahhkoijejehlcdlnohgmp?hl=en>

Spoiler (Click to View)

2. Add the feed:

3. From now on, a notification will appear (like windows 10) when you have your browser open & in-focus when a new post is made (depending on the update period in settings and the max is 1 hour)

4. If you feel like copying my signature, it's just a copy of the website banner with a link added:

Code [align=center][url=https://fatpeople.lol/][img]https://fatpeople.lol/banner.gif[/img]][/url][align=left]

Earlier post (didn't want another thread)

Quote:Here's an image board site I started recently for fun and now it's at a stage where I think it looks decent and can be shared. There are a few boards, more can be added at user request. It is mainly focused on comedy/funny posts.

Currently I don't allow pornographic material because of my domain registrar, although I may transfer it and then create a board for adult content.

If anyone has suggestions for unique boards, comments or criticism (especially on styling, since I have been having problems with cross-browser/platform compatibility) please post them here or leave a post on the board.

LMFAO. I love the domain name. Great job, you should make the board based on hating fat people like the subvoat <https://voat.co/v/fatpeoplehate>

Good luck with whatever you do with the website.

That's jokes. I think image board is great for this.

Yeah, you can use the /fat/ board for that. Thanks for the feedback.

Yeah, I enjoy the image board format. Easy to run and use.

It's also for fitness and someone made a fitness thread. /b is more active though. Changed some more stuff too:

New FAQ page
More news on news page

Spoilers, headers, italics, bold enabled. Vichan has a script that allows similar text formatting to 8chan so I enabled it for now.

Yep ? Took a break, but I'm back.

Some changes outlined in the first post, and a mini-tutorial on how to subscribe to the rss feed to show a notification in your browser when somebody posts.
