Pretty good edit overall, just make sure to pay a bit more attention to the shadows next time around. The right side of the face is dark, but the skull mask isn't. Also, on the left side, there's a chunk of face then the skull, try to smooth/blur them together so it doesn't look too much out of place.

Good job on the hands and smoke, they look awesome in this edit

I was making the light come from the left so it seems to make sense to me, maybe I'm just tired and tunnel visioned though. Thanks bud

Can you post the images used and give credit to all of their creators?

Thanks
