Thread: Deal Dispute UID=1747673 \$100 "perfect" picture pack NSFW

Jordan2222 - February 3, 2016, 10:35 pm

Hey guys,

So basically, there was a thread stating that this guy Diamondhacking UID=1747673 was making a perfect picture pack and he stated that this girl was "super sexy" and would have constant updates, so I waited until he made his thread to sell the pack but now I realize now that it was a huge mistake.

I thought $100 for constant updates that's pretty good and i'll easily make $100 out of this in the next couple hours because there was apparently tons of verification pictures/videos.

He had some pictures of the girl on the thread which you couldn't really see what she properly looked like, so I asked him for proof that he had verification pics but all he sent me where two photos of his folders but not what any of the pictures looked like but I still somehow believed that this girl would have good pictures.

Next what is wrong with this guy selling this picture pack is it states that there are 6+ lengthy videos. Yes there are more than 6 videos, but lengthy means lengthy. The longest video goes for 1 minute and 50 seconds! What the fuck? and he's charging $100 dollars for this girl who's not hot at all but claims she's super sexy and it's a perfect pack which it's not even a pack I would buy for $20. (Apparently I would cause I bought it for $100 :/)

All up the videos were 15 minutes and 25 seconds. 20 videos it came with and they all added up to 15 minutes? Lengthy means 15+ minutes not 15 minutes altogether.

So to sum it all up the girl was not "sexy" as he stated in his previous thread. The pictures weren't flattering, most of them are badly lit / terrible angles. She tries to do sexy poses in them and fails to make her look even worse. The videos were also not lengthy whatsoever and the confirmation pictures were not that great either. Very false advertising on Diamondhackings part.

If you are selling a product and you lie about what you are selling(or hide stuff), you're technically scamming the person since you're not selling him what you said would be in the pack.

For instance, me selling you a PS4 and saying that it works very well but in reality, the console will shut down every 30min because of "x" problem.

I don't wanna hate on the girl because that's not my style but we are talking about selling looks for money here.The type of men wanting to buy a woman are doing it as a trophy, she has to be good looking and unattainable for them to spend.

It really is a sad situation where a "product" like this is being sold for 100$. I am considering making a free pack that is 100 times better than this just because its annoying, Its insulting to the intelligence of this community.I would not waste my time trying to sell this to a desperate horny man but you expect me to pay 100$?? lol this dispute is still unresolved.

Legit scam report. hope you will get your money back. Good luck OP.

Milhouse - February 6, 2016, 10:27 am

OP, shit like this is EXACTLY why you don't buy picture packs from people. There's tutorials on this very thread that teach you how to make your own for FREE - As silly as you are for spending that much, that dude is a piece of shit for selling that pack of that ugly, fat, cellulite-ridden bitch for $100.

The irony of this all is....you basically got ewhored, LOL

But report is legit, all jokes aside.

I got scammed for 150 USD by him, too. I love to spend money without knowing what there is to test are the seller's legit, but now I can say that user really is false advertising and giving a trash instead of gold. I paid him 150 EUR to make it back in couple of days with his method with his pics and videos, he can give me 100 EUR refund for the pics or make 50 EUR more than that 100 EUR with me. It's up to him. Whatever he says, he is false advertising and it's actually a scam.

Just making it clear: I have no association with OP or with user that scammed him. I simply was generous and helped him by paying him back what he was scammed since the pack was literally the worst shit I've ever seen in my life.

Please don't be messaging me "hey he scammed me can you pay me be too" - I've gotten 4 of these..

Exactly what reporter said, until I got a message from him on this thread I had never heard of him, it was just a random generous moment. Dont beg for refunds just because he was generous enough to me, again thanks reporter.
