You bought LegacyLink Lifetime and the Lifetime of the Programm is over.

Never heard of legacy link... Is it fairly new?

VirtualMon3y - February 4, 2016, 10:01 am

The project died a while ago. I believe the owners own prototype 2 if someone can correct me if I am wrong?

I own prototype two. On it own it works ok but they have never developed the free plugins they said they would since I have had it.... Nearly a year!

It's coded in C++ which not so common these days which is cool but the licensing system has had its troubles. I don't use it tbh but when I do take it for a whirl I just wish they had developed it more. They might hook you up a license if you were lifetime of legacy link but I doubt it. Worth a try?!

Yeah I agree, was just suggesting they might hook him up if he owned lifetime on Legacylink but I doubt they will anyway... Prototype 2 works but like you said it seems dead in the water...
