Thread: [\[TUTORIAL \] RESELLING SOCIAL MEDIA SERVICES <<< SOME PEOPLE ARE SELLING THIS METHOD!](#)

SIM-888979 - February 7, 2016, 2:15 am

Introduction

I have seen a lot of people struggling to make their first few dollars online, so this tutorial is one of the most simplest and easiest way to make a few dollars extra every day. Although the method I'll be explaining is very common, there are reasons why people are still using this - because it works and makes money. So, as mentioned in the title, we will be reselling social media services on different websites to turn a profit.

Requirements

Payment Processor Account (PayPal, Bitcoins, etc)

$5-$10

Accounts on websites where you can sell the service.

Social Media Services Panel

Website (optional)

Using The Social Media Services Panel

So one of the essential things is to look for a social media service panel. This is where you'll be getting the followers, likes, subscribers, and et cetera from. There's a lot of panels you can go to, but I personally use the panel - SocialJet.co[/color] - you can choose to use other panels, but I'll be using this for the tutorial. THERE ARE CHEAPER ALTERNATIVES - YOU DO NOT HAVE TO USE SocialJet.co

So once you registered at the panel, you'll need to deposit some money for the service.

Depositing Form (Click to View)

Once you have deposited the balance, you are free to use it on any of the services they provide. Here is an example of me purchasing 1,000 Instagram Followers for $1.50.

Purchasing Instagram Followers (Click to View)

So this is all you need to do to provide services to your clients when you start selling.

Where To Sell

Now that we have established how to get our services, we need to find places to sell our services. There are many places you can go - forums, classified sites, create your own website, etc. I'll just leave you with a few suggestions and you can go ahead and use your own creativity.

HackForums

BitcoinTalk

eBay - YOU MAY BE BANNED / FLAGGED.

Fiverr

Creating your own website.

Now - I would definitely recommend creating your own website and promoting it from there as it allows you to charge a higher price than normal. When selling on places such as Hack Forums, BitcoinTalk - your profit margins are not as high as you would like them to be. You'll most likely be profiting $1-$2 / order. However, if you do decide to create your own website - you'll be able to charge higher prices of up to $5 per 1,000 followers.

If you decide to create a website and require web hosting, I'd recommend checking this out - CLICK HERE! DireByte provides cheap but high quality hosting services at a low price of $1 per month.

Conclusion

So in conclusion, this is a really simple way to make a few dollars without doing anything. You buy low, and sell high. Feel free to reply to this thread if you need any advice or help.

Latinsnake - February 7, 2016, 5:19 am

The idea behind this is still good, but in the "real world" you won't make money with this most likely. If you don't know how to advertise your services you will be just one of 50,000 other guys doing this and end up on page 600 of various platforms like Fiverr.

So while this sounds as an easy way to make quick money, it isn't. However, with an own website this could eventually be succesful. Of course you would need a good Google Ranking and know how to advertise properly (Social Media, AdWords or similar).

That's not true, you'll definitely make money with this - but not a lot. If you're thinking about making an extra $20-$100 per week while doing close to nothing, this is what you do. I started with a fresh Fiverr account and put up a Twitter gig and made about $250~ in a month. Maybe I'm just lucky or the 1 gig that I purchased myself really gave me the momentum to actually get noticed. The idea of saturation doesn't exist in my ebook - there is certainly a reason why people continue doing this.

Mr Kewl - February 7, 2016, 5:36 am

I'm pretty sure this would work pretty well on Fiverr, good profit margin.

That's not too true! If it is too saturated, people wouldn't try selling and hence leads to less people doing it, but yet you see so many people trying it because they know it works. This isn't a super secret $5000 / month method, it's a side income thing that you can try and takes less than 5 minutes to set up.

As long as the followers are not lost, there is likely no reason why they would charge back on the payment.

Well, you have to do both. Some services aren't on seoclerk, while others are on both platforms but cheaper on seoclerk. I wonder where those guys on seoclerk get their views & stuff from that they can resell those for so much lower prices.

From my experience there are two different types of Social Media Resellers. The first being the people who run SMM panels and offer something like YouTube Views for $0.50 for 1,000 Views, and the other being those who run their own website and instead leverage those SMM panels to purchase the services for their buyers.

I currently run 2-3 different websites that sell Social Media Services, and depending on the clientele that you're catering to you could sell 1,000 YouTube Views for $10 -- it really is ridiculous the amount of profit you can make with methods like this.

Indeed, but usually - those clients are hard to come by IMO. You would have to have great SEO to be able to be found by those kind of customers.

No doubt, they're not easy to come by whatsoever, but if you're able to deliver their orders in a timely manner with good customer service then you could have hooked a nice big fish for at least a few months. I have one client who found me on Google and spends roughly $500/mo on services; would hate to lose him! ?

The part where you go wrong is when you say "doing next to nothing". Marketing/Advertising is work too.

Next to nothing means some work, by the way.

for everyone what wants to start a new smmpanel, i would very recommend these

Perfect Panel - old one but the most commonly used, for visual you can customise it, you can see example at followiz.com

Levopanel - newer, maybe less features but very active team, looks better

Or get your own coder and create your panel, which can take a lot of time and knowledge :)

What are you talking about? Read the guide thoroughly. You're selling the service of the followers, not receiving them yourself.

Generalu - August 24, 2017, 9:30 am

The idea behind this is still good, but in the "real world" you won't make money with this most likely. If you don't know how to advertise your services you will be just one of 50,000 other guys doing this and end up on page 600 of various platforms like Fiverr.
