Thread: [\[TUTORIAL \] BITCOINTALK SIGNATURE CAMPAIGNS - Make \$\$\$ Posting On Forums!](#)

SIM-888979 - February 10, 2016, 12:16 am

Introduction

This is yet another small tutorial for people to make a few extra dollars per week by doing nothing but posting on a forum. For this tutorial, we'll be talking about BitcoinTalk.org and the amazing paid-to-post programs started by users of the forums. Do note that this method is something you should do for fun and pocket change, but it can also be scaled up by using many accounts to post. All you need to do for this method is post constructively on BitcoinTalk's gambling section with a signature.

Requirements

BitcoinTalk.org Account (Junior and above)

Time

BitcoinTalk.org Account

So, the only important thing you need for this method is to have a BitcoinTalk account. Many of you might already have it, but for those who don't, you can register for an account here - <https://bitcointalk.org/index.php?action=register>

An account will look something like this:

Account \(Click to View\)

One of the most important factor for this method is to make sure your account is in good standing and increase its' rank by constantly posting and being active. You'll get paid according to your rank on the forum. For me, I'm a Senior Member as seen from this screenshot.

Right at the start, you will start as a Brand New and will not be able to join any signature campaigns. But, if you post a few posts a day and make constructive posts, your rank will increase eventually. For more information about the ranks and how to increase your rank and activity, check out this link - CLICK HERE

Rank Details \(Click to View\)

Alternatively, you can purchase BitcoinTalk forum accounts from other users. Just make a quick Google search, but I do not recommend this as you can build it on your own.

Choosing a campaign.

So once you have a decent activity & rank (Jr. Member at the very least), you can start looking for some campaigns. This is one that I have picked out as an example:

As a Junior Member, you can make 0.0002 BTC per constructive post and a maximum of 50 posts per week. That's about $4 a week for just posting!

For my account, a Senior Member - I can get paid 0.0008 BTC per constructive post. That's $15 per week for just 50 posts.

So it's that simple, just create an account and start posting. In case you don't know what is a "constructive post", it is something like this:

It's just a few sentences - maybe 3 to 4.

Conclusion

Of course, this is not a $5000 a week method, but a small method for you to get some extra cash for gambling, buying things, etc. It's just something small you can do on the side or upscale it and make a ton of money from it.

Imagine having 10 Senior Member accounts, that's $150 a week from 500 posts! That's a lot of money for just some posts about gambling.

Choose trusted signature campaigns. Also, there are many signature campaigns with escrowed funds - meaning that the funds used to pay users are in a middleman's hand.

(Feb 15, 2016 11:05 AM)severos Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I was wondering, how exactly is Activity calculated??
The activity number is determined in this way:

time = number of two-week periods in which you've posted since your registration activity = min(time * 14, posts)

As long as you're not promoting any ponzis or scams, I don't see why you would receive negative trust.

feggu - February 27, 2016, 3:29 pm

On the contrary, you could be victimized if you are promoting signature that DT members are interested in in order to create space.

The DT members on that forum are greedy and self centred.

Quote: That's about $4 a week for just posting!

Wow that's less than minimum wage. Jesus fuck.

This is a nifty method definetly worth a try when you are short on bucks

FourthWall - August 26, 2017, 5:56 am

Will definitely be giving this a look, thanks. Any suggestions to make the most money for my time?
