Don't get it twisted, I didn't -3 because I was upset that you sold them to someone else.I did it because I don't like your attitude. If you had just said "Sold them to someone else while you were away" that would have been the end of it.

I don't feel the need to make this a public issue, though, so if you'd like to discuss further feel free to PM me about it.

I PM every member who're buying AGC who are online at the exact same moment that I put my AGC for sale.

The member who replies first, will get it.

If multiple members replied, I'll accept the highest offer.

So don't worry about it, no need to get competitive haha ?
