Thread: Free Red Bull from a couple months ago

Kyrus - February 13, 2016, 9:01 pm

I don't know if you guys remember this but Red Bull was sued for false advertisement a couple of months ago. Almost a year ago I think.

Those of us who filed a claim for reimbursement got these free packs of 4 aha.

I just got mine today, forgot about it tbh.

TheNullz - February 13, 2016, 9:40 pm

I GOT MINE TODAY TOO HAHAAHAHAHAH. Was wondering why the package was so heavy :P

SIM-2908357 - February 13, 2016, 9:42 pm

> Gets sued for product
> Reimburses with product.
Classic.

I think I filed two of those, not 100% sure.

Haven't received it nonetheless, but I could use some free Redbull right about now.

Squilliam - February 13, 2016, 9:53 pm

Yea i signed up for that back last year or what ever, hopefully mine comes through too i want some free energy drinks atm

tron - February 14, 2016, 10:08 am

I forgot about it too, until my 4 pack arrived last week.

I'm more of a coffee than an energy drinker, but i'll drink them eventually.

Anyone remember when the freebie was offered? seems like almost a year ago.

A bathing ape - February 14, 2016, 10:09 am

Nice this should be in bragging rights.

Tomb Raider - February 14, 2016, 10:13 am

Man I remember this but it only applied to the US so we were left out in the dark here in the UK. Enjoy.

Pain - February 14, 2016, 10:14 am

Inb4 they spiked the energy drinks for people who called for reimbursements

Diclonius - February 14, 2016, 12:52 pm

Still waiting on my gift from this thing.

Whoever got theirs mind posting State + Date received?

tron - February 17, 2016, 1:09 pm

In Oregon, recieved 02/10/16.

It probably costs them as much in shipping as the drinks are worth.

Unsure. I think I'm the kind of person to request cash reimbursement, I personally do not drink energy drinks whatsoever.

How the fuck did you get $17?

Did you make multiple?

I mean, I got 2 packages of redbull

I didn't wanna spam too much and get nothing at all.

I believe after I entered a relatively large number of packs purchased, it required proof of purchase. I submitted whatever receipts I had at the time, so that probably has something to do with it

For what it's worth, $17 is nowhere near the amount I spent. I'm not sure how they determine who gets what of the settlement.

Really? I don't remember having to enter that part.

It was just email, address, and what form you wanted your reimbursement plus if you liked Redbull or not

Romantic - March 2, 2016, 6:21 pm

Yeah my friend just got like a $4 check from them LOL

Drizzy?? - March 2, 2016, 6:22 pm

Would have been hard to bs this. The time period within which you must have purchased a Red Bull product to be considered a member of the settlement was nearly 15 years long. From January 2002 up to March 2015. And it's not just the energy drink, it was any Red Bull product.

The $13,000,000 settlement (before various expenses) was honestly quite small for the realistic number of people eligible to be in the settlement class considering how long the window was. I'm surprised we got as much in our checks as we did. Means a lot of people who were eligible didn't hear about or didn't sign up for the settlement.

Good for us though ?

lucky. - March 11, 2016, 5:19 pm

It was the funniest thing a few days ago. I get a letter in the mail titled "Energy Drink Settlement," thinking what the fuck? Then I remember, wayyyy back the redbull thing. Turns out I got a check for $4.25 lol.
