I personally bought the Twitter, not sure how it was originally obtained but I have never had any problems with it.

Update - February 19, 2016, 11:33 am

You can buy a verified twitter for like $200 after that you can verify a Vine with the twitter if you link it, and im sure once you talk to instagram they will verify the instagram since you have a vine and a twitter verified.

9k seems a bit steep

other than that glws.

Not at all how it works. You can buy a verified Twitter for $200, change the password and then have it pulled back by Twitter within 1 day and get permanently suspended on all of your accounts along with losing $200 and a possible police investigation.

Also good luck contacting Instagram asking to get verified, Nadeshot couldn't get verified despite having a verified Twitter for months lol.

I feel like a lot of people replying see the "verified accounts" threads and stuff for sale for $200 and presume this is the same. They are hacked accounts which will be pulled back by Twitter within hours. This cannot be taken back, it has been active and secure for over a year. It also has a much better username than all the ones you will see for sale which have been hacked from musicians, models etc.

I sold a 1 letter instagram username with instagram verification for 9k. Shouldn't have a problem getting what you want considering what you're offering.

Nah, it's very hard to get verified on Instagram. There's a ton of celebrities that are verified on Twitter and Facebook etc but not on Instagram.

Twitter verifies pretty much anyone, you don't even have to be famous or known at all.

Journalists, Gamers, Shitty Rappers / DJs, etc.

Everyone who has ever tried to get verified knows it is really hard/almost impossible. The gamers and shitty rappers that do have connections through marketing agents and stuff whom they pay a salary. You can't just randomly call yourself a journalist and get verified. You can't even send a verification request without knowing a Twitter agent haha
