Hello everyone,

So I've been redesigning TTG v4 for about 2 months now and to view my current progress you can click the link below. I'm using free hosting right now but once I have done most of the developments it will be paid hosting.

If you are interested we have staff positions going.

Broken images on your forum.

None of the images appear to be broken to me or any of the other staff, try using a different browser, if the images are still broken I shall take a look.
