

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: Difference between http and other botnets

aakashsangwan - February 22, 2016, 3:51 am

I am a noob , can somebody please explain this to me

ComputerStudent - February 22, 2016, 4:31 am

HTTP is the specific protocol used for communication. In other botnets the protocol is unspecified and could be anything, FTP, IRC, etc.

fs.writeFile - February 22, 2016, 7:30 am

Send me a PM and i will explain everything to you and if you ever have questions about anything else just message me

aakashsangwan - February 22, 2016, 9:19 am

(Feb 22, 2016 08:30 AM)fs.writeFile Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Send me a PM and i will explain everything to you and if you ever have questions about anything else just message me

Sorry can't send you pm due to very less number of posts. I think so

Reece Morgan - February 22, 2016, 9:21 am

(Feb 22, 2016 05:31 AM)ComputerStudent Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) HTTP is the specific protocol used for communication. In other botnets the protocol is unspecified and could be anything, FTP, IRC, etc. I have yet to see a botnet that uses FTP for bot control. :P.