Thread: Profit - \$2,401.50

exploit.c - February 25, 2016, 12:56 pm

Some projects I'm running, here's a taste of what I'm doing, and how much I'm making.

Reddit (Click to View)

For reddit, I sell upvotes, comments, downvotes, subs, friends, etc.

I charge $5 for 100 upvotes, $2 for 100 downvotes, $5 for 1000 subs, $2 for 1000 friends.

I have fully automated bots, and dedicated servers running them, scraping thousands of proxies each day to perform automated tasks.

PoC on a TIFU post - upvoted it from 100 votes to 188 upvotes in under 2 minutes. No downvote by reddit automatically applied since they act like real browsers, detect as real browsers, and only used once per upvote before gotten rid of the account. Before an account can be used in an upvote, it is aged by 2 weeks, it does automatic routine comments, to appear more legitimate. Sometimes the proxy fails hence the error, but I fix the proxy automatically.

Here's how it working without error messages:

Today's profit:

$224.52 USD + $125 pending balance

PayPal:

Bitcoin (over past month) :

(aka 2.05193365 BTC)

App Sales (Click to View)

I also sell about 15 different applications, one of them for sale on HF here, I won't list the HF sale stats, but all other apps combined I've made about $1,200 in profit for a few hours each app of work. (will upload picture later when I'm on my other laptop)

Twitter (Click to View)

Twitter I sell follows/rt's/likes. All legitimate accounts, and I operate a large followback service (which I won't name) which has access to over 20k accounts, I sell credits on the service, $20 per month for 20k credits, which gets someone about 5k followers.

This month so far: $108.50 (will upload picture later when on other pc)

Total profit this month: $2,401.89

Total expenses to run this month: $29.53 USD

Before anyone asks:

1. No I will not teach you how to do this
2. No I won't sell any of my tools to you

Thanks all, I'll update later when I've got more.

Damn, I'm betting that takes quite a bit of advertising to get that much coming in? I'd think it'd be hard to find people willing to spend that money.

Also, couldn't the code used in the twitter bots be easily transferred to Instagram? That could open up a new avenue of monetization.

Already working on Instagram - using similar code base as reddit.

I'm also preparing the official HF launch of the services here, with free 100 reddit upvotes for the first 10 customers, free twitter followers (real) for the first 10 customers, etc. Cheap as heck prices, custom coded system fully automated system.

Hey... that's smart af!!!

However, something confused me:

You say you have 82,542 accounts working. (Accounts (working) : 82,542)

But, on your giveaway thread (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5183354>), you say you have 250k accounts available.

Just an observation, maybe it's just a typo, idk.

Yes, accounts available is different from total working accounts.

The "real total" including dead/banned/shadowbanned/invalid/deleted is about 251,302. After about a month of usage of accounts they're "recycled" (auto-deletion process of account), and new accounts generated.
