Thread: What's the best painless way to die?

Ceice - February 26, 2016, 10:38 am

I need some opinions please my life hasn't been going right and I can never do anything right. My girlfriend left me because I'm too 'emotional'. I don't know what to do I can live here any longer. I'm a drop out I have no chance in life I work at Home Depot living pay check to pay check. I can't do it anymore

I couldn't pass any of my classes so I dropped out, because of that my mom kicked me out and so i went to stay with my girlfriend but then we had an argument and she said I was to emotional and she kicked me out I begged my mom to come back but she said I had a week before I had to leave again

Cammy - February 26, 2016, 10:39 am

Jump from a tall building head-first while extremely baked (if you're sober you'll have a few seconds of psychological distress over your decision)

SIM-2005107 - February 26, 2016, 10:39 am

Not. Killing yourself is never an option.

Best way is probably a bullet to the brain, But the problem is that theres actually people that survive it.

But hey, Theres no reason to suicide and if you need someone to talk to I'm an active listener at 7Cups and you can talk to me ?

donethatbeenthere - February 26, 2016, 10:41 am

Don't do it Danielle. The.. the.. white vans will be messed up.

?Alexander - February 26, 2016, 10:42 am

Down like every sleeping pill you can find.

Don't do this. As your heart starts to fail and your body begins to struggle to stay alive, your body will force you to vomit as it will naturally want to remove all the poison.

Jump from a tall building while doing some LSD, and pretend that you're superman.

Also, suicide isn't an opinion for you, suicide is just for weak and selfish people, as your family will suffer.

AncientWolf - February 26, 2016, 10:56 am

You know you can just enjoy your life and be happy , that's painless

Just cheer up man

Granny Bacon - February 26, 2016, 10:58 am

Painless way to suicide is to take painkillers, many painkillers and take a rope and hang.

But Please don't do it. Try to enjoy the life, live your life.

Dota2 - February 26, 2016, 10:58 am

Make sure to live for yourself than for the people, do what you love, enjoy what you can, do with what you have, nobody cares in the end, everyone lies.

CorrosiveBlueberry - February 26, 2016, 10:58 am

Just give up on the idea of committing suicide you won't succeed and you'll end up in a cycle of worrying your family; causing large medical bills having to go to psych wards , get medical treatment, etc. Eventually you'll come to a point where you won't want to live; you won't have any reason to live however you don't even have the will to want to kill yourself; that where i've been at the past 4~ months since i've been sober. I just exist, i have no purpose i'm just a burden; i guess the only positive thing is i've put away 20 years of negative emotions; and now i'm like an apathetic monster with no emotions maybe that is because i'm sober.

Cammy - February 26, 2016, 10:59 am

Quote:You probably made it to this page because you're contemplating suicide. Please. Before you commit suicide, read this entire article. I believe I have beneficial influential information for you.

Suicide is extremely dangerous. Look at these shocking statistics from the New York Times:
"After a 10 year, government funded study, Paul Green, a teen suicide expert, concludes that 100% of teens who commit suicide die."

Suicide is extremely dangerous. What are you thinking right now? Is something along the lines of, "Wow. Tate. That's horrible! I had no idea it was so dangerous"? If that's what you're thinking, you need an attitude readjustment. You're being very pessimistic, and we need to get you thinking more optimistically. According to the statistics, 10 out of 10 teens who commit suicide will die, correct? I have to say, that's very dangerous. The chance of surviving a swim through a tank full of hungry sharks is better than the chance of surviving successful suicide.

Do your parents hate you? Do they always show their disgust for you by telling you to empty your dishwasher? Thanks to Paul Green's wonderful study, we can now show them that you're truly grown up. Commit suicide. They'll be so incredibly shocked at how brave you are that they will immediately love you like never before. It's genius. Only a truly brave man commit suicide. Excuse me. A truly brave woman would also commit suicide. Forgive me. I realize that a lot of the people reading this are 12 year old boy's middle aged mothers, so I'm trying not to come across as sexist. I realize that women too are very proud of their ability to commit suicide over life altering events, such as losing a boyfriend in middle school that she's had for a week, or being picked on for wearing glasses, or things of that sort.

You might as well commit suicide. My website attracts the lowest forms of life scattered around the internet (including you). You were born to kill yourself.

With this information, you'd have to be a total pussy (or a woman) to not commit suicide.

The best way would be to use an exit bag, just do a quick google search on it and you will find the instructions. But seriously I know the feeling and it's real shit but it always gets better eventually.

SirNoobHack - February 26, 2016, 11:04 am

Suicide is selfish, but I understand why people do it. Your family will always remember what you did and be in great sorrow. If you were for example to hang your self, there's a chance that someone in your family will find you hanging. They will have a disturbed mind forever after that.

Every city has stoners, trust me. Money isn't a problem as much as you make it. The only problem is your decision upon deciding whether to start smoking weed or not. ?

Rolls Royce Cars - February 26, 2016, 1:46 pm

Jump off a building or in front of a train. However you shouldn't kill yourself.

Lrrr - February 26, 2016, 1:50 pm

Overdose on heroin and go out on top.

Llama™ - February 26, 2016, 1:51 pm

Jumping off a building on LSD. Will be great and fun. As well as painless.

DingusMonster - February 26, 2016, 1:53 pm

Kyle Beats - February 26, 2016, 2:01 pm

There's no painless way to die because at the end someone who truly did care about you will have a never-ending pain.

Speaking from experience, it's not worth it.

Go out and enjoy your life man, you've been through A LOT. Nature is extremely beautiful and spring is coming around, it sure is beautiful.

I would say gunshot to the head.

Make sure you put the barrel of the gun under your chin or in your mouth pointing up.

But yeah don't kill yourself, it isn't worth it. Look at me. I've been depressed for 10 years and I always hope that the next day will be better.

Even thought it isn't but a man can dream, can't he?

BLURRYF?CE - February 26, 2016, 11:52 pm

You need:5+ Disposable grills

Charcoal lighter fluid

A lighter

A chair

A not-well ventilated room

A pack of hotdogs

Optionally some alcohol and/or painkillers

1. Fire up the 5 disposable grills in a non-well ventilated room.
2. Sit down, relax, drink some alcohol and/or painkillers while enjoying some hot dogs.
3. Fall asleep and die from carbon monoxide poisoning without any pain whatsoever.

Indica Only - February 27, 2016, 12:56 am

It's always so baffling watching people attempt to give reasons not to kill themselves. Half the people giving "reasons" not to kill themselves should kill themselves. Ignorance.

Tony Stark - February 27, 2016, 2:24 am

OP suicide is never the option and is a selfish act.

You need to find motivation again and I believe you can.

Google a local help line in your area and you can talk anonymously and get help.

You could also get help from a friend, family or councilor.

Hang in there, things will get better.

Please watch this full video.

As for all those people telling someone how to kill themselves, you should all be banned.
