Hey,

Looking for some Dota 2 players here on hackforums,

Are enjoying watching DOTA 2 Major Shanghai?

Which is your favorite team on the event?

Stopped watching it after they kicked James. Atleast he made the stream more enjoyable when the games werent played because 'perfect' world can't host for shit.

Probably my last compendium I am buying.

I was about to post here about that james scene, then i was like first lets discover some dota players here : D

That james kick was so stupid, I have been following him since first TI, I really like him in hosting, brings so much fun to every event. A very stupid move by Valve.

Overall it's a garbage major in terms of quality of the production.
