619/ its free on this forumIts actually a direct replica of it, I never used that source file to create this. Actually I was not even aware it was a free template I based mine off another thread design BUT this being said I am not an asshole and I will link the creator of the "original" in mine. I did download his PSD to ensure that this design wasn't the same just in case it may of escaped me that I used his template
