Thread: \(Rant alert\) Stop. For the sake of humanity. Stop.

Admonition: Sorry, I know that I'm a novice to your forums.

Spoiler \(Click to View\) I saw a rant thread regarding the rules and decided that I could unleash my anger here so that someone could potentially understand me.

and the following text is capable of triggering/affronting religious people. Keep in mind: I'm not against your religion/God or your social group at all.

I saw over a billion posts in/around my social media from people who post shit like: "Supreme education doesn't matter. People studied X and got to work as a waitress/waitor [McDonald's et cetera]" Overall: Either low-paying job, either a job they don't like. And the funny thing about those people is that they didn't even get to study in a university/college.

Just fucking stop.

This is the cancer of the retar[de{a}d] people with flaccid intelligence.

They use these excuses to cover their current situation. Eg: a taxi driver < This is real. All he posts is in the same theme as mentioned above. Like, if you want to be dumb and broke (I know that I overreact, but this is a serious issue. I'm sorry, ok?!) just keep on driving people and whining about excuses your whole fucking life.

In my city everyone who's a biggot keeps on whining: "ONE DAY, ONE DAY I'll BE SUCCESSFUL! JUST WATCH!" And keeps on serving people at McDonalds.

Or better yet keep whining as the following: "God didn't want me to be successful. He closes a door, to open a window for a better place." < god fucking damnit

Everyone who liked/s their posts in the theme mentioned above (conclusion is made upfront research) is, either working a shitty job, either not even TOUCHED to a University/College building. This triggers me so fucking much and it is nothing common to my character. I'm usually stealth if it comes to hating/affronting anything/anyone.

Offtopic: Tommorrow I have a speech regarding a role from a movie I've taken a part in and want to not be as stressed. Thank you in advance, reader, for understanding my thoughts.
