There isn't a set mark on how much you could make, depends how you use the method and what you do exactly. Technically with this, there isn't 'one' way of earning, but all centralised around Steam, Gifts and Keys. Also if you feel like you may know the method, you may PM me about this.

No worries, I wouldn't say you need knowledge about Steam, however if you'd like you can check back within 48 hours with hopefully a review. Thanks for the question!

How much effort time required in this?

The effort I'd say is moderate, depends on what you want to get out of this. If you're looking to earn, it's always the more effort you put in, the better results you can get. Time literally could be one hour tops if you're also looking to earn.
