Thread: META - Software Scanning Sites: Do Scan & Don't Scan

Astropid.META - March 2, 2016, 5:39 pm

Hello everyone I just wanted to make a list (not an official one because of my lack of knowledge and ability to edit posts past a certain time period), or sites that are a go and a no go when uploading software to.

Why?

Chosing the appropriate site to upload your crypted code will allow you not only to tell if it's well crypted but will also keep it crypted longer. Some of the "Don't Upload" sites on the list will share the encrypting techniques to other anti-virus companies, and therefore patch the encryption method that some coder worked so hard to make.

Do Upload:

<http://Anonscan.net>
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5100141>
<http://NoDistribute.com>
<http://Scan4You.net>
<http://RazorScanner.com>
<http://scan.majyx.net>
<http://viruscheckmate.com/en/>

Don't Upload:

VirusTotal
NOVIRUSTHANKS
chk4me
jotti viruschef
novirusthanks
donotdistribute
metascan-online
Other Distributing Sites

PLEASE LET ME KNOW IF I MISSED ANY OR IF ANY ARE INCORRECT!

Thank you all again, I hope this was a simple answer that helped you. Coding an Crypter takes a lot of skill and understanding so please respect any product you are using by just this simple action!

Thank you,
~META (arman756)

Why not scanning on those sites? are they dangerous or something?

I think reading the actual post would be beneficial to answering that question...

Let me know if you have any other extended or more specific questions.

Thank you. I know that many members who have been to the cryptography section at least once or twice know what site they go to, and what sites to keep away from. I just wanted to create a more visible line between the two.

I've honestly already used it as a reference, just to double check my scan with another site and what not. Considering it is my thread I assume I will probably use it more than anyone else.

@Hopsin Sick name btw.

I'm not l33t yet... I'm still waiting for my BTC to come through so that I can get l33t. And because I'm not l33t I can't edit posts after 1440 minutes...

But awesome thank you, I will once I get l33t!

They don't. I use this all the time for my private crypter.
Anyway. Thanks for the list!
