Thread: Create simple Config - Sentry MBA

Conscious - March 6, 2016, 1:51 pm

First open up Sentry MBA(if you have AIO version, do a full reset first)

Take the login url and paste it under Site: in sentry mba like this:

Then move over to "HTTP Headers" under General:

Set the Request Method to "MW"(Magic Wand):

Now press the orangeish Magic Wand:

Press "Analyze Login Page":

If the config is very easy, sentry MBA will figure out the rest(I personally often use "Refresh Cookie")

Now press the "Use Data":

Go to "Proxy Settings" and set proxies on or off:
BOTTOM-OTHEROPTIONS

Move over to "Fake Settings" right below "Proxy Settings":
These options is the most common in my world

head over to "Keywords"

Our first keyword is a source failure keyword(Sentry reads the source code and looks for incorrect login keyword)

In this case that could be(If User:pass is wrong):

So our failure keyword is:

Source Success keyword is something on the source code of the page when your logged in(Often Logout/Signout or similar)

Now when everything is done go to "General" and "Save settings to snapshot"

This will save the snapshot(Config) in your snapshot folder.

To test if the config is working go to "Tools"

and go to:

Add this:

Input username and password:

Click the lightning and afterwards press the "Debug" tap:

If it returns Source failure(If your username:pass is wrong) or Source Success keys(If your username/:pass is correct) you have configured it correctly

Please excuse me of any grammar mistakes and such or if you have suggestions/opinions to improvements let me know.

this is a very simple config tutorial and nothing that advanced.

Great info thanks for this, this is all very interesting but also very frustrating at the same time for someone just trying to learn.

Thank you for this tutorial, I also saw you made a config for cheezburger, if you wouldn't mind I'd be interested to take a look at the accounts
