Thread: eCommerce Business for Sale - Make \$3,000+ a month

Gucci? - March 12, 2016, 12:02 am

Hey guys!

I previously wanted to sell my online business; but then got a little motivated thinking that I'd make more time and put more effort into the business.

The business is called AudemarStone

Website: <http://AudemarStone.com>

Instagram: AudemarStone

Potentially, there is no limit to how much profit you can make from this business. Each product has a profit margin of at-least = $30USD minimum up to $120USD; keep in mind, this is per product sold.

This business will require time and effort. Regular advertisement, i.e. shoutouts, Facebook ads, instagram ads, etc. When buying the business, I will provide every resource I have. Everything from my main suppliers to how to continue to run the business and maintain profit.

You will get everything including all social media accounts. I am looking to start the bid for this well established business at $500USD. If anybody is interested please pm me or post down below. I am open to offers. Thanks in advance, serious buyers only. ?

Website Statistics; haven't been advertising much.

The title says, "make $3000 a month" Is that an actual figure or a made up one if you get really lucky and sell a load somehow? How much is the site making per month?

If you are selling for $500 I imagine the $3000 a month is potential sales cos you would be an idiot to sell it with that profit wouldn't you?

I take it you've had sales for this? Else it wouldn't be worth anywhere near $500, as it's not hard to find cheap sellers for this stuff if you know where to look, and you've given the business concept away.

PM me details (sales, traffic,...) might be interested in this.

Is it brick-and-mortar business also? Or that is your home address on the contact page? O.o

Would be good if you can post more stats.. like past sales & social media stats

With the right amount of time I was able to make $2300 in a month. Not everybody knows where to find the products and manufacturers. Lots of people with luxury watches love my product.

$500 when it makes $3,000/month? Your valuation makes no sense.

RaiderNation - March 12, 2016, 2:17 pm

Can we some stats of the site?

@Jupiter - March 12, 2016, 2:18 pm

Really interested in getting my hand in this. Posting here to come back to later

Stats of sales would be better than visitors.

EL BB - March 13, 2016, 1:01 am

How much is site making each month? Show evidence please.

Wopy - March 13, 2016, 1:36 am that traffic could be nothing special the real thing that matters is the sales.

Exactly .. you can get that traffic in 10 minutes with $10 worth of popunders.

Sorry to say but if it has made even $1000 per month you could sell it for $3000 - $6000 in my opinion.

Might be interested. Posting here to look at it later.

How do I start a bidding ?

Limited Edition - March 13, 2016, 10:58 am

Could you PM me proof of earnings, previous sales reports etc.. Also some more information if possible, I'm not really interested in bidding blindly lol.

Also would you consider selling it through a site like flippa.com using their escrow system?

Gucci? - March 13, 2016, 2:13 pm

I would be more than willing to sell it on the site. I refreshed all the other statistics because somebody on HF said he was buying it. But he never sent me the funds so now I have to try selling it again.
