Thread: ENIGMA | JAILBREAK HELP DESK | 9.0 - 9.1 | UPDATED AND UP TO DATE

sHAY - March 12, 2016, 2:56 pm

ABOUT

Hello, this is my help desk. You got the questions, i got the answers. I can help with almost everything within Iphones and jailbreak.

If you have any questions just leave them down below or send me a PM.

Most common questions

- Q: Is there a jailbreak for 9.2 or 9.2.1

- A: No, there is not. We still got to wait on that one.

- Q: Is it possible to downgrade to a earlier version of IOS?

- A: Yes there is, but for that to be possible Apple must have the firmware signed.

But at the moment you would NOT be able to downgrade to a jailbreakable firmware.

- Q: Can i jailbreak my iPhone?

- A: It depends on what firmware you're on. If you are over iOS 9.2 you would not be able to, if you're on a lower firmware you are.

- Q: How do i jailbreak my iPhone?

- A: I will have a tutorial on how to jailbreak your iPhone further down this thread.

- Q: When will iOS 9.2+ Jailbreak release?

- A: As of right now no one really knows, we would just have to wait sadly.

Important words

As you all might now by now Pangu has released a jailbreak for 9.1 i WOULD NOT jailbreak right now.

Because there is a trouble with the software given by Pangu that makes your phone stuck in a bootloop. Which you only could fix if you update your iPhone and if you update your iPhone you could no longer jailbreak.

How to jailbreak iOS 9.0 and iOS 9.0.2

- Step 1: Download Pangu's jailbreak tool here
 - It is recommended to backup your device with iTunes•
- Step 2: Turn off find my iPhone. Go to your settings -> iCloud -> Find my iPhone [Off]
- Step 3: Turn off your passcode. Settings -> Touch ID & Passcode -> Passcode [Off]
- Step 4: Turn your device into airplane mode. Settings -> Airplane mode
- Step 5: Open the jailbreak file you downloaded from Pangu's site.
- Step 6: Plug in your cable into the PC.
- Step 7: The tool should now detect your iDevice. Click on the start button.
- Step 8: If you already have a backup on your device click the Already backup button.
- Step 9: Somewhere around 55% your device will restart, once that's done turn airplane mode back on.
- Step 10: Somewhere around 75% it will tell you to unlock your device and run the pangu application.
- Step 11: Once you have opened up the app press accept and allow on the popup that follows.
- Step 12: Wait until its done.
- Step 13: You should now have Cydia on your phone. Open up cydia and let it doing its thing.

How to jailbreak iOS 9.1

OBS THIS IS FOR 64BIT DEVICES ONLY
YOU MUST HAVE ITUNES INSTALLED ON YOUR COMPUTER

- Step 1: Download Pangu's jailbreak tool here
- Step 2: Turn your iPhone into airplane mode.
- Step 3: Disable your Passcode by going into your Settings -> Touch ID & Passcode -> Passcode [Off]
- Step 4: Now logout out of iCloud.
- Step 5: Plug in your Device into your computer and trust it.
- Step 6: Open up the Pangu jailbreak you downloaded earlier and press "start"
- Step 7: If you already have a backup on your device press " Already backup" and press "start" again.
- Step 8: Your device will reboot a few times during the installation and that is normal.
- Step 9: At about 90% it will ask you to unlock your device and press the Pangu app you have on your phone.
- Step 10: Now you're done.
- Step 11: You should now have Cydia on your phone. Open up cydia and let it doing its thing.

Yea it kinda sucks being on 9.2 now, however when 9.3 it will for sure come a jailbreak for either 9.2 or 9.3 and it will a lot more stable.

If you/your friend has some kind of proof that he's the owner of the iPad you could easily take it to your local Apple store and tell them about the problem.

I would love to believe so thinking that the Apple has been pushing update after update it feels like and now when 9.3 i think they might just get the jailbreak working on there.

I recently upgraded my iPad to iOS 9.2.1, and then realized there was not a jailbreak for that firmware. What is the most recent firmware that has a reliable jailbreak? Can I downgrade to that firmware?

unfortunately not. The latest jailbreak is for 9.1. and you're not able to downgrade to that because apple stopped the firmware signing for that firmware.

So basically my only option is to wait until the next jailbreak? Assuming that is 9.3?

Yes, but don't upgrade until it is 100% confirmed, we might get a jailbreak on 9.2-9.2.1

I have JB'd my device. it is on 9.0.2, and i did this a while back. now I cant find any of the repositories that comes with it, if i try to do one it give me a red text saying

"I wasn't able to locate the file for the repo.biteyourapple.net.array package. This might mean you need to manually fix this package"

I have my data turned off and i am only using wifi. If you know what i could do to fix this that would be most helpful.

Might be a dump question but have you tried deleting the repo and then adding it back?

No i don't, i actually think if we get a jailbreak it will be on 9.2.X, im not sure though but i hope.

EthanX - March 24, 2016, 11:21 am

Would you recomend staying on 9.2 or upgrading to 9.2.1 or 9.3?

Plus, someone on reddit was talking about a special way of updating and how one way wouldn't allow a jailbreak? It was something about how you updated your phone, do you know anything about that?

I have no clue about the last part haha, but i would highly recommend staying on 9.2.X since its stable as it is right now and if the jailbreak releases on 9.3 its just to upgrade, and if it is on 9.2.X then it would just be perfect haha.

No, stay on 9.2.X incase they drop a jailbreak for that FW. As of now we're not really sure when it will drop, however there's a few thoughts that it will be dropped within April.
