Thread: Do NOT deal with Champion // UID = 2540993

MathiasHansen - March 12, 2016, 4:17 pm

Currently having some troubles with him in our deal that has been on-going for ten hours. Do not deal with so called user until further notice.

A deal dispute will be posted unless deal will be finished in the next 15-20 minutes.

I am being stalled in our deal, and he is refusing to pay as of now, so do NOT deal further, as he may be stalling me to enforce multiple scams to get a bigger gain.

If you have a dispute, create a deal dispute thread. Community alerts aren't meant to be used as deal disputes.

Proof? Any member can post a thread saying someone is attempting to scam you

I am creating a deal dispute as we speak. Reason for creating this alert, was that I am scared that he may be stalling me in order to create multiple scam incidents. He is frequently visiting his private messages without responding to mine, therefore I may be afraid he is overruling multiple members of Hack Forums. I'd hate to see others scammed.

What the fuck? This guy wants to sell me a game but I can't even see if the code is valid cause I'm not even home.

It's involving BTC. That's why I wanted him to verify the shit works.

Edit: Damn Daniel 3005 posts. Didn't even notice. But still, what the fuck is this b.s dude.

I know how people do that shit. Give you a fake code and shit and expect you to send BTC.

And yeah, Orgy.

Dude. I'm at my aunt's house where my phone is connected to her Wifi. She has bright house. Come on now. Fucking Pink Panther.?

My PS4 isn't at my aunt house therefore I cannot even check if the code he sent was legit.

Also Champ, if you're on your phone, why do you keep going to misc.php? That's a browser plugin (HFES) doing that for you. You're full of shit

I was afraid he was lying, hence my community alert. Blows to lose not only $60.00 on the game, but also $40.00 on trying to sell it. I was just trying to get partial of my investment back for the game after I swapped my PlayStation 4 into an Xbox One.

And such a reputable member, never thought this was going to happen.

Champ?on - March 12, 2016, 4:49 pm

I don't even use HFES. A scammer? When I don't even have your game?

Smh.

Let me just get my pink panther mask on.

I don't even know what misc.php is. I don't even know what .php is.

MathiasHansen - March 12, 2016, 5:33 pm

User is definitely a scammer. I sent him a private messages asking for his Bitcoin address so I could try and see if he even had the money we had an agreement about. He read my message and then proceeded to ignore me.

Without a doubt nor a flinch a scammer.
